THE WINNING TRADITION

Pitt continues to hold its place among college football's elite. Over the past six years the Panthers have the best record in college football with a 62-9-1 mark (including bowl games). B.Y.U. is second (61-13), Alabama is third (61-9-1), Southern Cal is fourth (59-11-2), and Oklahoma is fifth (57-12-2).

The Panthers also own the best record over the last three seasons (33-3). In the last five years (according to NCAA statistics that don't recognize bowl victories), Pitt (46-8-1) ranks third behind Alabama (49-5-1) and Brigham Young (50-8). The Panthers have recorded a Top 10 ranking (A.P. or U.P.I.) five of the last six years.

* * * *

Pitt's victory over Georgia in last season's Sugar Bowl gave the Pitt football program its 500th win. The Panthers began playing football in 1890 at old Exposition Park on the North Side. Pitt was 1-2 in 1890 beating Geneva 10-4 and losing to Allegheny AA 38-0 and Washington and Jefferson 32-0. In 1892 the Panthers enjoyed their first winning season posting a record of 4-2. Pitt football teams have recorded an overall record of 500-318-36.

* * * *

The Panthers will be gunning for their tenth consecutive winning season. Pitt had eight consecutive winning years from 1904-1911 and 27 consecutive years from 1913-1939 under "Pop" Warner, Jock Sutherland and Charles Bowser. Since 1973, the modern renaissance year for Pitt football, the Panthers are 83-22-2 (.776), 38-8 at home (.826) and 39-14-2 on the road (.709). They have averaged over nine victories a season since 1973.

* * * *

1981 was the third year in a row that the Panthers won 11 games. Their 33 wins in the last three years broke the previous 3-year high mark of 30 wins set in 1978-79-80. Pitt has now won eight or more games in seven straight seasons — a feat never accomplished before in Panther football history. 1981 marked the sixth time that Pitt has won ten or more games — 1904-10, 1905-10, 1976-12, 1979-11, 1980-11, 1981-11.

* * * *

Pitt has been bowl-bound for eight of the last nine years beginning in 1973 with the Fiesta Bowl (1975-Sun Bowl, 1976-Sugar Bowl, 1977-Gator Bowl, 1978-Tangerine Bowl, 1979-Fiesta Bowl, 1980-Gator Bowl, and 1981-Sugar Bowl). The Panthers, winners of six of their last seven bowl contests, are 6-2 in their last eight "12th game" appearances. They are 7-7 overall dating back to the 1927 Rose Bowl.

* * * *

Pitt enters the 1982 season having won 32 of its last 34 ballgames and 35 of its last 36 on artificial surfaces. The Panthers have also won their last 20 of 21 at Pitt Stadium. Their last two losses came at the hands of Florida State in Tallahassee in 1980 and Penn State at home in 1981's regular season finale.

The Panther Mascot

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

1982 PITT FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

THE WINNING TRADITION CONTINUES

The pressure is on. For the man whose middle name is "Dante," he'll find the inferno good and hot in his first season as a collegiate head coach. Not one to shy away from a challenge, University of Pittsburgh new Head Coach Serafino Dante "Foge" Fazio is not only looking forward to the fire, but is ready to jump in — head first.

"The Pitt Panthers have been presented a challenge," said Fazio. "That challenge is to prepare ourselves both mentally and physically for the hardest schedule that a Pitt team has faced in the past five or six years.

"So, with that challenging schedule and also our reputation to defend, we realize that we have to be prepared," Fazio added. "Being prepared will include being enthusiastic, being motivated and being aggressive, and not taking it easy and resting on our laurels."

Not that Fazio hasn't been left with any tools to work with. With 48 lettermen, including 18 starters, returning from last year's 11-1 and #2 ranked team, Fazio has the nucleus of a team that many coaches spend nights dreaming about.

And that team, including the nation's number-one ranked defense (for the past two seasons) has not gone unnoticed by the pre-season polls. The Panthers have been selected the number-one ranked team pre-season by many of the nation's top selection services and magazines.

"First of all, we've put ourselves in kind of a dilemma to start with," Fazio understated. "We tell our guys to play like champions. We tell them to win, to play hard. — 'you are champs, you deserve bowl games and recognition.' And they win the bowl games.

"We've got a lot of fine athletes coming back this year. They've experienced these things. A lot of them have been recognized nationally as individuals. All of the sudden, we are picked pre-season to be the number one team in the country, which doesn't mean much except that you must have been pretty good last year, so our guys are deserving of it.

"What our players will have to do is to use that number-one ranking as a motivating tool. I hope our players are mature enough to realize that the games are won on the field, and the pre-season ranking is like a feather in your cap — nothing more. That's how we're going to treat it, and just attack the season," Fazio concluded.

To attack a schedule like the one the Pitt Panthers face in '82 takes a lot of tools, and Fazio's "tools" are some of the finest polished "hardware" in the country, led by Heisman Trophy Candidate, All-America quarterback Dan Marino.

Marino leads an offense where nine starters return from a unit that averaged 32 points per game last year. Marino was named to four All-America squads last season and led the nation in touchdown passes, with 34, during the regular season and added an additional three in the Sugar Bowl. He owns a dozen Pitt passing records and is the Panthers' all-time leading passer with 6,165 career total yards and 62 total touchdowns. He's now closing in on Tony Dorsett's total offense record of 6,526 yards.

"Dan Marino is probably the most outstanding quarterback I've ever seen — and that is saying something because I've been in college football for 16 years as a coach and I played the game myself. I don't think there's a college quarterback who I have seen in my time who can do the things, who has done the things that Dan Marino has done and can do," said Fazio.

"He has great physical strength, he has excellent speed, he has a great arm. He's very intelligent, take-charge type guy. Danny's probably one of the few quarterbacks in the country that can operate under any kind of condition and still be able to perform at maximum capacity. He's a true, true winner, a competitor, and an outstanding leader," Fazio said.

But one player does not make a team, and Fazio is well aware of that.

"We have a lot of fine athletes," he said. "Naturally, we don't have two Dan Marinos. We have receivers who can catch the ball, and I'm sure that our offensive linemen can protect for anybody — they're big and strong, experienced, and well coached. Our running backs have proved themselves and our defense, I feel our defense can play with anybody."

Among that group of talented returners are two first team All-Americas, offensive tackle Jimbo Covert and split end Julius Dawkins.

Outland Trophy candidate Covert is the nucleus of what Fazio calls "one great offensive line."

"Jimbo has all of the equipment and the attitude to be one of the best offensive linemen to play the game here at Pitt," said Fazio. "Nationally, I don't think there is an offensive lineman returning, who at 6-5, 275 pounds, can run and pass block like Jimbo Covert."

On the receiving end of the bombs that fly from Marino's finger-tips is a talented group of receivers, led by All-America Dawkins.

"We are blessed with probably the outstanding receiving corps, as a group, in the country," said Fazio. That crew includes Dawkins, flanker and All-America candidate Dwight Collins, and Sugar Bowl hero, tight end John Brown.

Last season Panther fans clamored for a running game, and a running game is what they got, when tailback Bryan Thomas stepped to the front to help develop the much-needed Panther rushing attack. That factor adds a whole new dimension to the Panther offense, and with talented running backs, who can also catch the ball, and talented receivers (including back-up flanker Barry Compton) who can run with the ball, the Panther offense can, indeed, be an exciting one to watch this season.

Defensively, the Panthers return nine starters from the nation's number-one ranked defensive team. "Pitt has a great tradition of defense," said Fazio. "This tradition will carry us a long, long way."

But, to continue in that fine tradition, you have to have the tools, and the Panther defense is loaded with them, led by a strong defensive line. "Our interior line complements each other very, very well," said Fazio. "They are aggressive, they are hungry and they are winners."

The ends and linebackers, too, return talented athletes at each position, as well as the defensive secondary, led by Sophomore All-America, safety Tom Flynn.

"Tommy Flynn is one of the premier free safeties in the country," said Fazio. "He follows in the line of (former Pitt great) Bob Jury and (Pittsburgh Steeler) Mike Wagner, two of the best safeties to ever play in the city of Pittsburgh."

What Fazio can do with these tools will help determine whether that number-one ranking will remain a "feather in our cap" or become a reality at the end of the season.

"I hope to have an enthusiastic, highly motivated team," Fazio said. "Our style of play will be basically the same on defense, hoping that we are reckless and a gambling type of defensive team, making things happen.

"Our goals in the spring were to try to eliminate mistakes, try to make the offense as aggressive as possible, move the football and don't try to stop ourselves. We want to continue to develop our running game. We want to make Dan Marino the complete quarterback that he can be," Fazio continued.

Pressure? How will Fazio deal with the pressure personally?

"I'm looking forward to going to fall camp, preparing for games, and coaching my team. I'm looking forward to Saturday afternoons on the sidelines with my team — that's what coaching is all about. I haven't had a chance to do that and I'm really looking forward to it."

For a man with pressure, Fazio seems to not only face the "fire" head on, but he's ready to jump right in.

"Being the head coach at the University of Pittsburgh is a great personal honor to me," said Fazio, a Pitt graduate. "It's an opportunity that doesn't come along too often. I'm really looking forward to the season. The magnitude of the responsibilities that goes along with the position are great — but the rewards are just as great."

A tradition continues.

NEW HEAD COACH

SERAFINO "FOGE" FAZIO

He was, by nearly all standards, the perfect choice. He was a man whose time had come. He for the job, and the job for him.

Thus it was that the selection of Serafino "Foge" Fazio as Pitt's 29th head football coach this past January met with the thundering approval of Pitt players, alumni, students and fans alike. He was, to coin a phrase, the "popular choice" — and for all the right reasons. He could coach. He could recruit. He had integrity. And, he was a Pitt man through and through.

When Jackie Sherrill announced that he was leaving for Texas A. & M., the Pitt administration didn't hesitate. Foge Fazio was their man.

Fazio was elated at the opportunity. "I am very happy, in fact, ecstatic, and very anxious to get started," a smiling Fazio noted at his first press conference. "It's a tremendous responsibility, but I have the confidence in myself and the complete support of our administration. With this vital administrative support and with the backing of all Pitt alumni and fans, I'm confident we will continue to have a highly successful, quality football program at Pitt."

The architect of Pitt's #1 nationally ranked defense the past two seasons, Fazio has served as Assistant Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator. His defensive accomplishments gained him a national reputation, leading a national magazine last Fall to name him one of the top two college assistants in the country.

Under Fazio's guidance the 1980 Pitt defense was ranked first in the nation in two categories — total defense and rushing defense. And again, in 1981, despite the loss of nine starters on defense (seven of whom were pro draft picks), Pitt again ranked number one in both total defense and rushing defense.

Fazio is also considered a master recruiter who is largely responsible for many of the quality athletes on the present Pitt squad. Even as Sherrill was announcing his resignation, in a next door room Fazio was on the phone reassuring recruits that Pitt was the place for them.

Fazio is an enthusiastic coach both on and off the field (left) and reversed roles in the 1979 Varsity vs. Alumni game, when he both played and coached the Alumni squad (right) shown here with Alumni Coach Steve Petro.

It was no surprise, then, that his 1982 recruiting class, highlighted by Parade All-Americans Matt Stennett, Bob Schilken and Rich Bowen, is considered by most experts to be a quality group. He is used to recruiting excellence, though. It was Fazio who introduced a young high school senior by the name of Tony Dorsett to former Pitt coach Johnny Majors nine years ago.

Fazio brings to his new position a strong Pittsburgh area and University of Pittsburgh background. A native of Coraopolis, PA, he was an All-WPIAL center and linebacker for Coraopolis High School and played both linebacker and center at Pitt from 1957-1960. As a starting center his senior season he was named team MVP, All-East, and honorable All-America and played in the North-South All-Star game and the All-America Bowl. He was a fifth-round draft choice of the Boston Patriots and played linebacker there for one year.

Fazio served in the high school coaching ranks at Ambridge (1963-1964) and Coraopolis (1965-1966) after landing his first college job as a graduate assistant at Pitt in 1962. He has served collegiate coaching stints at Boston University (1967), Harvard (1968), and Cincinnati (1973-76).

He was named by Sherrill to the Pitt staff in 1977 as linebacker coach and was promoted to defensive coordinator prior to the start of the 1979 season and also named assistant head coach in December of 1979. Previously he had been a member of the Pitt coaching staff from 1969-72 under Carl DePasqua.

The 43-year old Fazio is a 1960 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. He's married to the former Norma Popovich and is the father of two children — Kristen (13) and Vincent (10). He presently resides in the Oakland area of Pittsburgh.

FOGE FAZIO UP CLOSE

FULL NAME: Serafino Dante Fazio (FAY-ZEE-O) DATE OF BIRTH: 2-28-39
WIFE: the former Norma Popovich CHILDREN: Kristen (13) and Vincent (10)
HOMETOWN: BORN in Diamont, WV; RAISED in Coraopolis, PA
ALMA MATER: Pitt, 1960

PITT COACHING CAREER: Serafino "Foge" Fazio was named Pitt Head Coach in January of 1982. He originally joined the Pitt coaching staff in 1962 as a graduate assistant before gaining full-time status at Pitt as a linebacker coach in 1969 under Carl DePasqua. Fazio rejoined the Pitt staff in December of 1977 as linebacker coach under Jackie Sherrill and was promoted to defensive coordinator and assistant head coach in 1979.

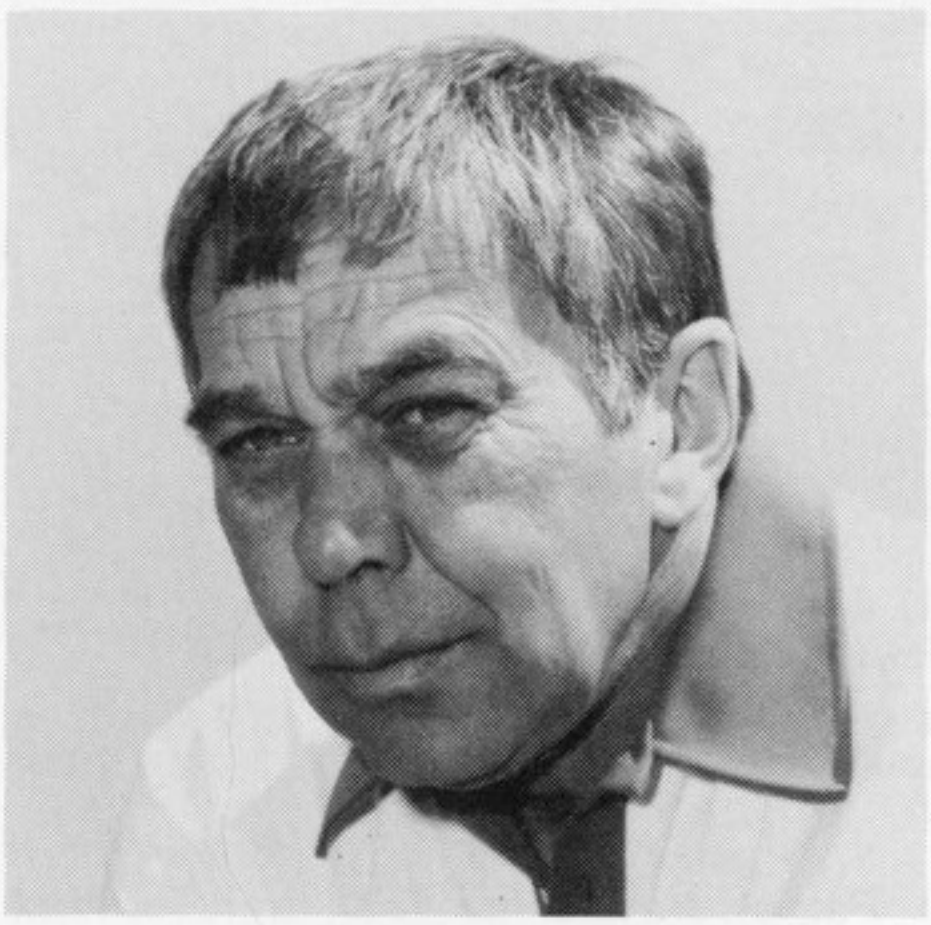
The Assistant Coaches



Joe Moore

Assistant Head Coach
Offensive Line

Joe Moore begins his sixth season on the Panther staff and this year, has the added responsibility of being named assistant head coach for obvious reasons.

Moore came to Pitt right out of high school coaching some of western Pennsylvania's most successful scholastic coaches.

In 17 years of coaching at the high school level, he compiled a 119-32-4 record. His 1974-75 Upper St. Clair teams were both co-champions in the WPIAL. Moore's Upper St. Clair teams didn't lose in their last 36 games and only tied twice.

Joe graduated from Schenley High School which is just a few minutes away from the Pitt campus. He earned a Masters Degree in Counseling from Gannon College.

Coach Fazio said, "Joe has been not only an excellent recruiter, but for the past five years, has demonstrated that he is one of the top offensive line coaches in the country."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Richfield Springs, NY, 1959-60; Towanda, PA, 1961-62; McDowell (Erie) 1963-71; Upper St. Clair, 1972-75. Joined Pitt staff in December, 1976 from Upper St. Clair High School.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 2/19/32. Hometown: Pittsburgh, PA. Alma Mater: Penn State '58. Married to the former Frances Gaskil and father of Joe (23), John (20) and James (15) and grandfather to John Patrick.

Charlie Bailey

Defensive Coordinator
Linebackers

Inheriting the nation's top-ranked defense would be quite a challenge for most, but Coach Foge Fazio found the person to fill that role in Charles Bailey.

Bailey comes to Pitt from the University of Kentucky, where he was assistant head coach and defensive coordinator under Fran Curci from 1975-1981. Prior to that he served as defensive coordinator at Rice from 1971-74, the University of Miami (1971) and his alma mater, Tampa, from 1964-70, where he captained his football team and was honored as outstanding lineman.

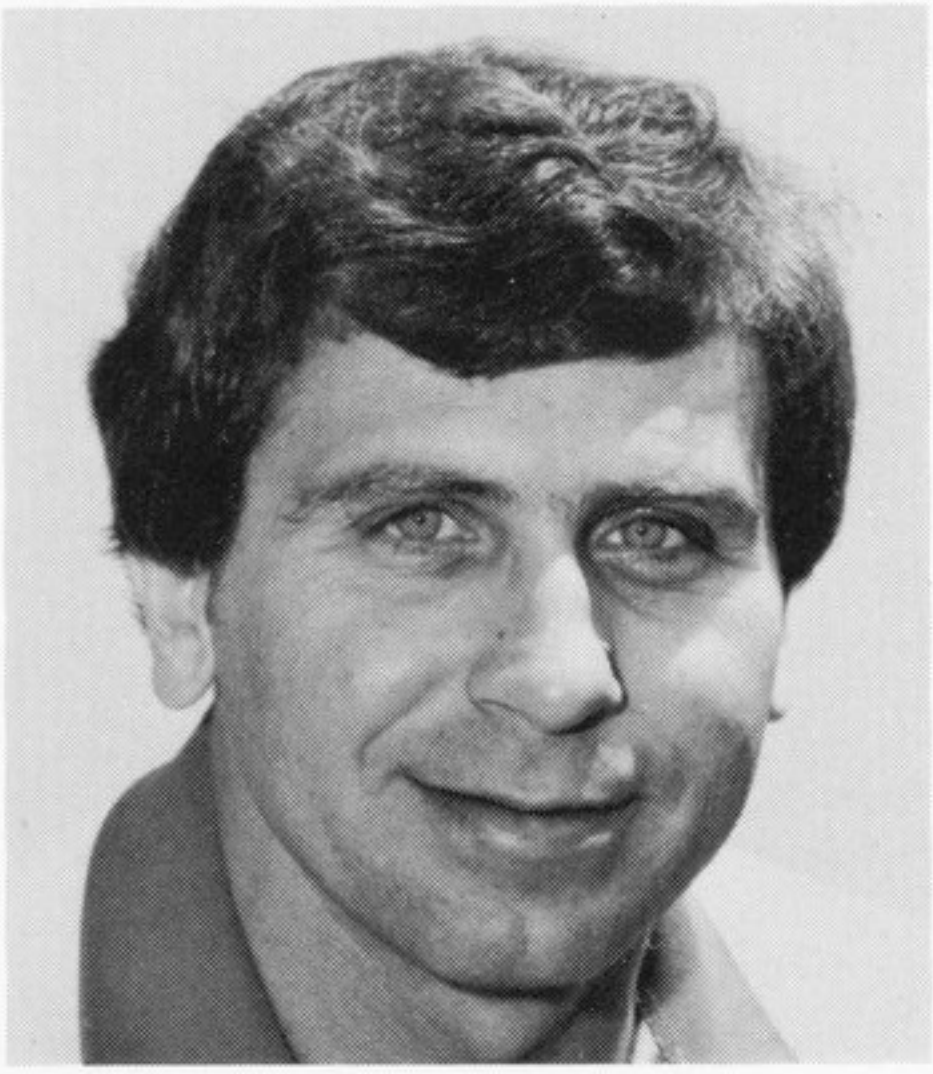
He was also an assistant coach at Brandon High School in 1963 and Poca High School in 1962. Bailey is a graduate of Poca High School in Poca, West Virginia where he performed as a versatile athlete earning three letters in football, basketball and baseball.

With a vast amount of experience and defensive teams that have ranked among the country's elite, Bailey will serve as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach for the Panthers.

Coach Fazio said, "We're very, very fortunate to get a guy of Charlie Bailey's abilities and experience. He has long had a reputation of being an outstanding defensive coach and brings to us a freshness, and a newness that we need. He's a very enthusiastic guy and the players all love him."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Poca High School, WV, assistant coach, 1962; Brandon High School, FL, assistant coach, 1963; COLLEGE — Tampa, defensive coordinator, 1964-70; Miami, defensive coordinator, 1971; Rice, defensive coordinator, 1971-74; Kentucky, defensive coordinator and assistant head coach, 1975-81.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/20/40. Hometown: Poca, West Virginia. Alma Mater: Tampa, 1962. Married to the former Gail Davis and the father of Jeff (20) and Derek (15).



Joe Daniels

Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks

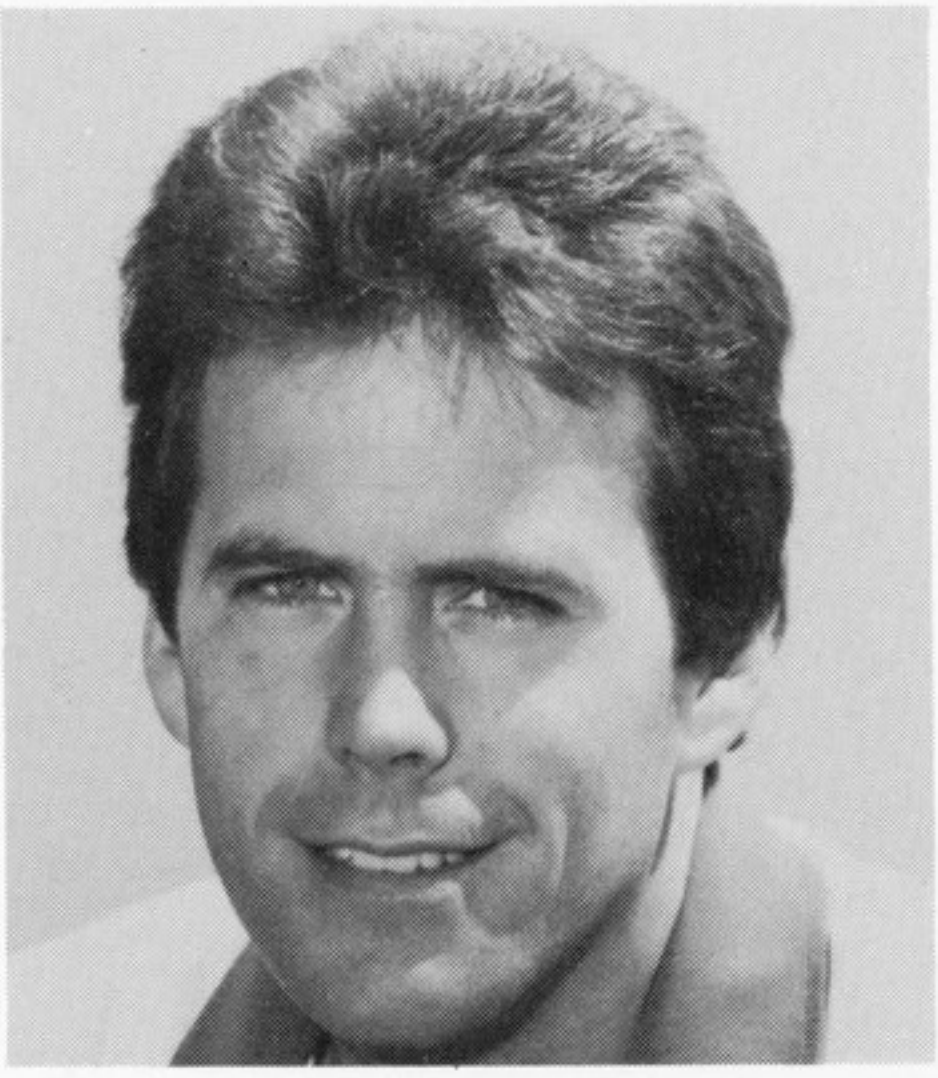
Joe Daniels will assume the responsibilities of offensive coordinator this season, and will continue to coach the quarterbacks, a position he's no stranger to.

On the college coaching level, Daniels was a quarterback coach at West Virginia, where WVU's fine signal caller Oliver Luck was under his guidance. Before joining the West Virginia staff, Daniels spent 10 years as an assistant coach at Boston College, coaching quarterbacks from 1975-77 and receivers from 1968-74. Two of his products from BC are Mike Kruczek and Kenny Smith.

Coach Foge Fazio said, "Joe does an excellent job on the field in coaching quarterbacks and has a great mind for attacking opponent's defenses. We feel that he will do another outstanding job in the press box this season."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Bishop McCourt, Johnstown, 1964-66. COLLEGE — East Stroudsburg, 1966, Graduate Assistant; New Hampshire 1967-78, Freshman Coach; Boston College, 1968-76, Quarterbacks and Receivers; West Virginia, 1977-79, Quarterbacks.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 11/15/42. Hometown: Bethel Park, PA. Alma Mater: Slippery Rock '64; East Stroudsburg '66. Married to the former Kathy Hampton.



Bob Davie

Defensive Ends

Bob Davie is probably the only present member of the Pitt coaching staff who was cheering for Arizona during the Fiesta Bowl in 1979. But as defensive end coach for the Wildcats, it was his duty.

At 24, Davie was the youngest full-time coach in the PAC-10 Conference. He served as recruiting coordinator at Arizona from 1978-1979. He signed eight recruits in 1978 and nine in 1979.

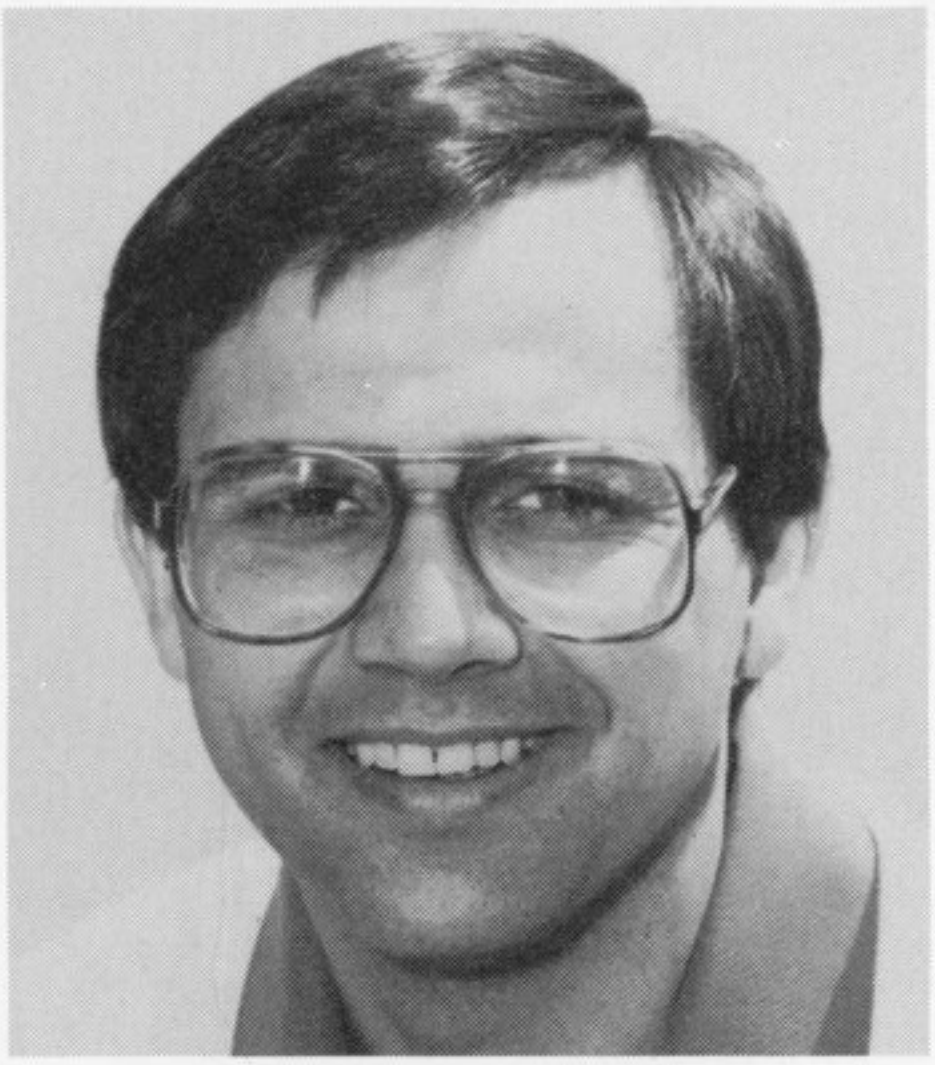
At Youngstown State University, Davie started for four years and was the leading receiver for two. During his senior year, he served as captain of the team.

In 1977, Davie worked as a Graduate Assistant for the Panthers.

Coach Fazio said, "Bob will be one of the outstanding collegiate coaches. He's very young, aggressive and an intelligent coach who attacks his position with enthusiasm. He did an outstanding job recruiting."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — Pitt, 1977 Graduate Assistant; Arizona, 1978-79, Defensive Ends; Pitt, 1980, Part-Time Assistant.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Hometown: Coraopolis, PA. Moon High School graduate, started football, baseball, and basketball for 3 years. Alma Mater: Youngstown State '76. Married to the former Joanne Fratangelo.



Anthony "Dino" Folino

Defensive Backs

Dino Folino begins his second year on the Panther staff coaching the secondary.

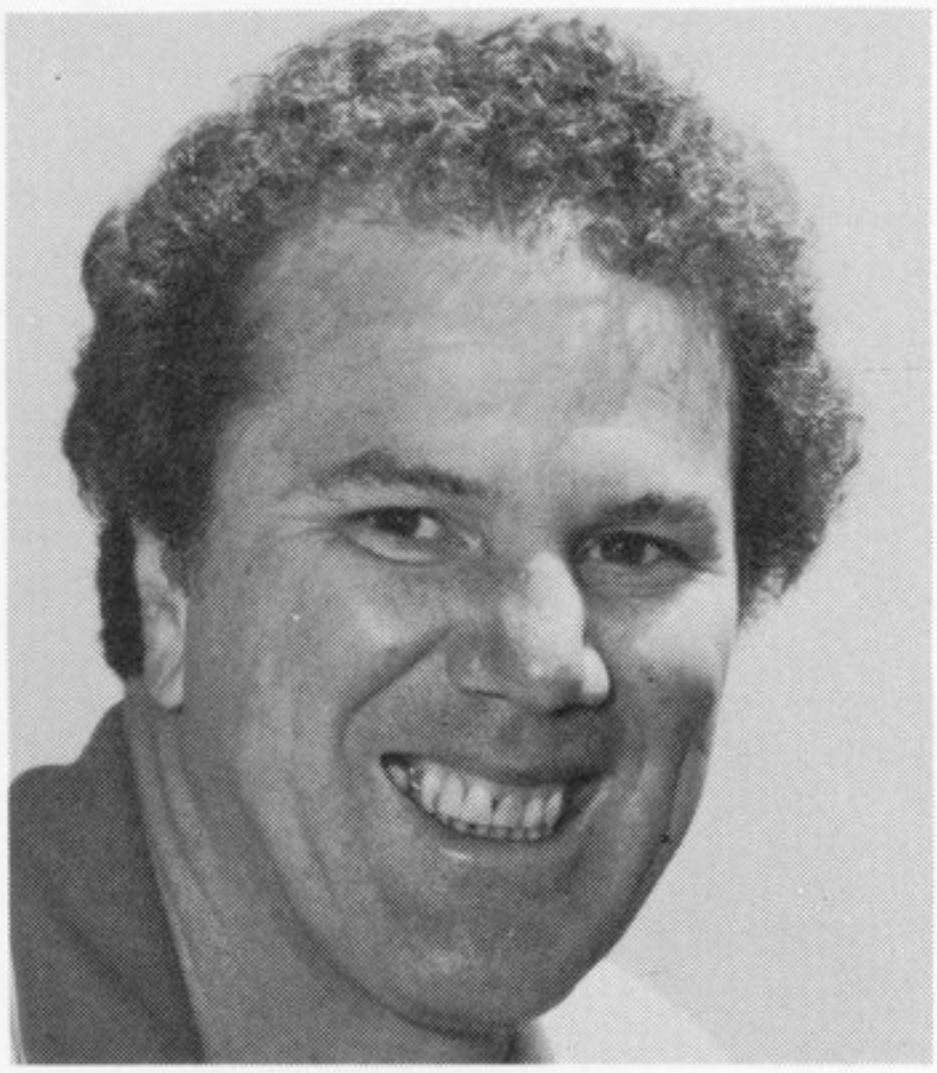
A 1967 graduate of Central Catholic High School, he played quarterback and won All-Catholic honors in 1966. Folino later served as defensive coordinator for his alma mater.

At the college level, Folino returned to Pitt from the University of Cincinnati where he spent five years as a defensive backfield coach. He previously coached at the University of New Hampshire and was a graduate assistant at Ohio State under the legendary Coach Woody Hayes.

Coach Fazio said, "Although Dino's youthful, he brings in many years of experience from coaching the secondary at Cincinnati and also at Ohio State."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Bishop Kendrick High School, Norristown, PA, 1971-72, Defensive Coordinator; Central Catholic High School, Defensive Coordinator, 1972-74. COLLEGE — Ohio State University, 1974-76; Graduate Assistant; University of New Hampshire, 1976, Defensive Backfield coach; University of Cincinnati, 1976-80, Defensive Backfield coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION — Date of Birth: 9/19/49. Alma Mater: Villanova University '71, Ohio State University '75. Married to the former Anita Bigatel. Parents of four children; Anthony (10), Alyse (9), Ann (6), Charles (2).



Joe Naunchik

Receivers

Joe Naunchik has coached at both the high school and college levels. At Plum High School, his team won three Keystone Conference championships. He served as Head Coach at Plum Boro High School for nine years before coming to Pitt in March of 1979.

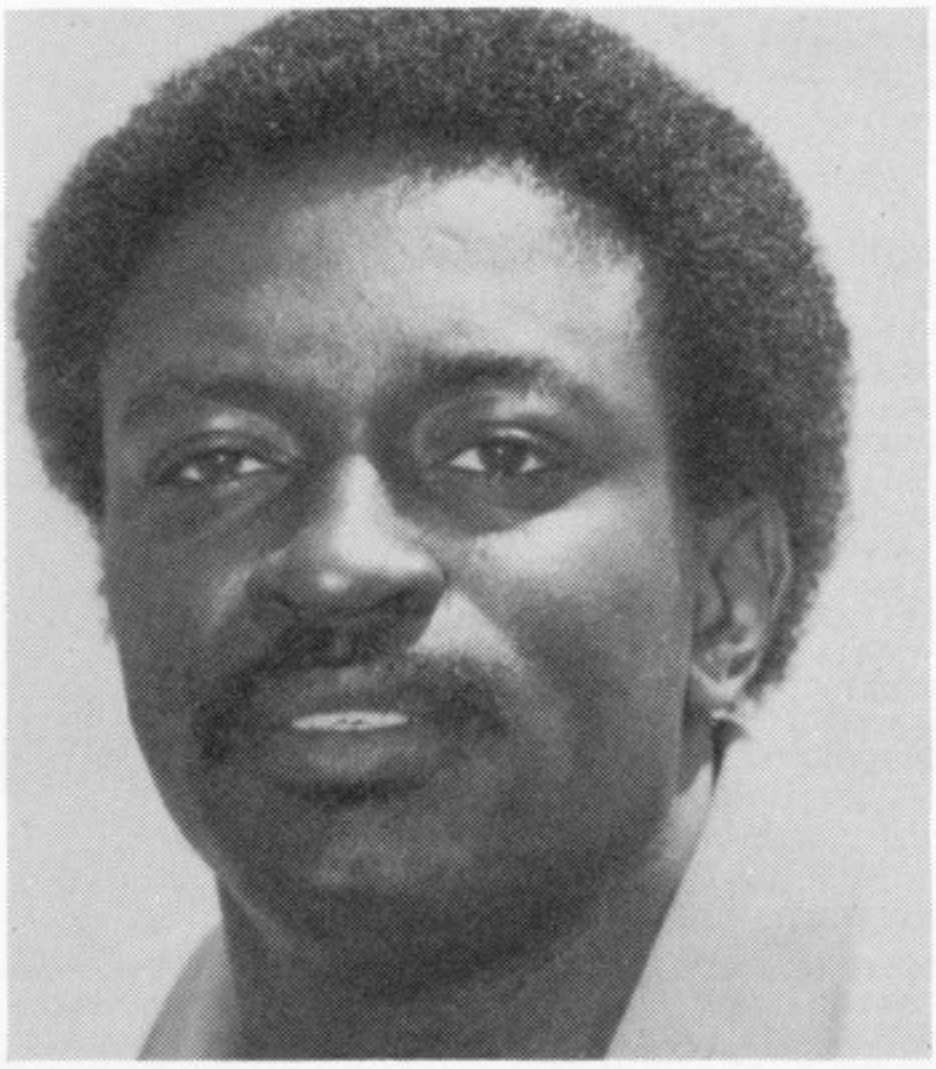
In his last four years of high school coaching, Naunchik compiled an overall record of 33-3-1.

Naunchik was a fine athlete in his own right. At Arizona State, he was a running back under the legendary Frank Kush. His personal athletic prowess shifted from football to baseball when Joe played minor league baseball for the Pittsburgh Pirates for three years before earning his degree at Fairmont State in 1962.

Coach Foge Fazio said, "It's no accident that Joe's been able to develop such fine wide receivers as Julius Dawkins, Dwight Collins, John Brown and Barry Compton. He also did an excellent job recruiting this year."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Valley, 1965-67, Offensive and Defensive Backs; Fox Chapel, 1968-69, Offensive and Defensive Backs; Plum, 1970-79, Head Coach. COLLEGE — Susquehanna, 1967-68, Offensive and Defensive Backs.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 6/22/38. Hometown: Plum Boro, PA. Alma Mater: Fairmont State '62. Married to the former Terry Abraham and father of Joey (8) and Daniel (6).



Don Thompson

Defensive Line

Don Thompson begins his first season on the Panther coaching staff this year, and will supplement the Pitt defense with his experienced background in athletics, teaching and recruiting.

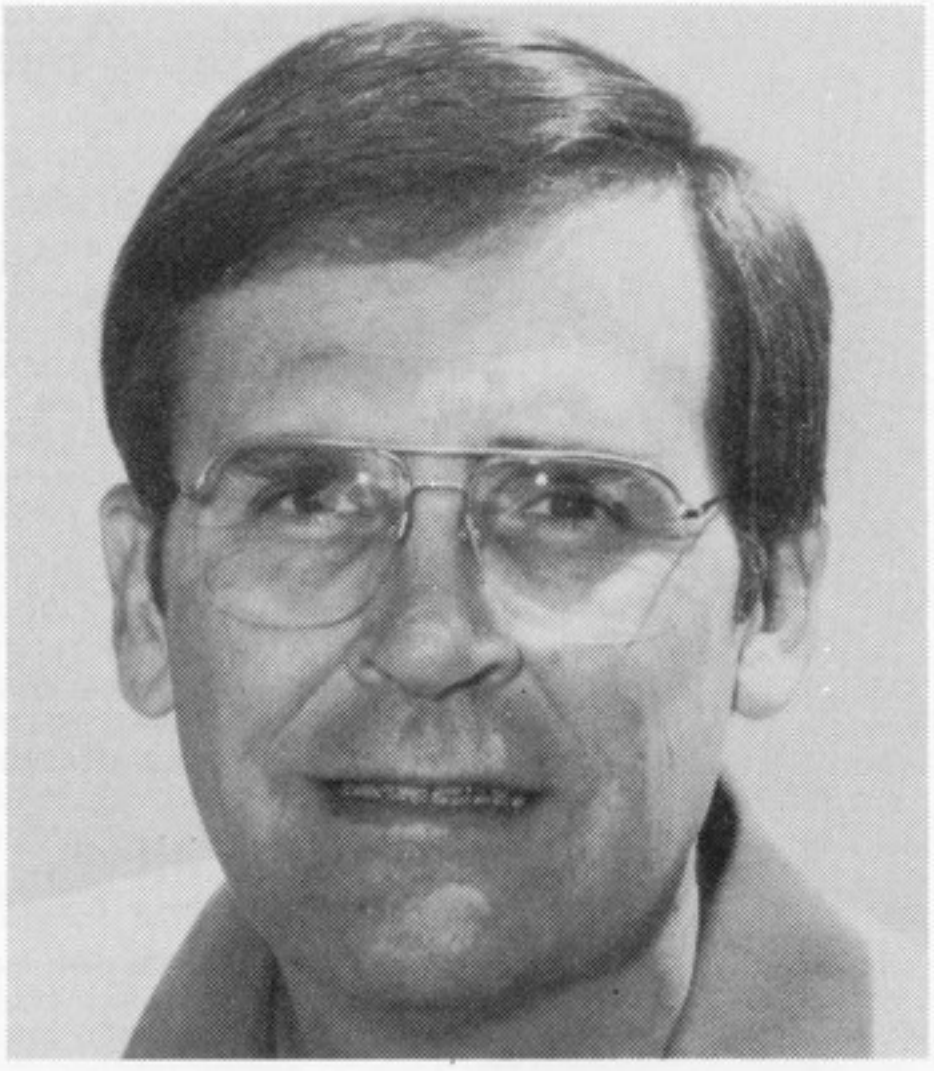
Thompson comes to Pitt from the University of Connecticut, where he coached defensive ends and linebackers from 1976-81 after a one-year stint as a part-time coach in the same capacity.

A graduate of Bogalusa High School in Louisiana, Thompson was a 1st-team All-State and All-District performer before attending the University of Connecticut, where he received a B.A. in Business Administration and his M.A. in Education. As a linebacker at UCONN, he earned All-Yankee and All-East honors in 1974 and captained the team while being named MVP and the outstanding senior.

Coach Fazio said, "We're very fortunate to get a guy of Donnie Thompson's character and abilities. He's a very enthusiastic person who always has a smile on his face and always has good things to say. He's also an extremely aggressive recruiter and we're looking for Donnie to do an outstanding job on the defensive line."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — Connecticut, defensive end and linebacker coach, 1975, part-time; Connecticut, defensive ends and linebackers, 1976-81, assistant coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 10/23/53. Hometown: Bogalusa, LA. Alma Mater: Connecticut, 1974. Married to the former Gilda Packard and father of Don Jr. (11) and Amie (6).



Andy Urbanic

Running Backs

Andy Urbanic begins his second year as offensive backfield coach on the Panther staff. He is no stranger to the Western Pennsylvania area, with 19 years of high school coaching experience behind him — including 11 years as head coach at Penn Hills High School where he led eight teams to the State Championship — and earned Coach-of-the-Year honors five times.

Along with Penn Hills, Urbanic brings experience as head coach at Wheeling Central Catholic High School, Triadelphia High School and Dillonvale High School in Dillonvale, Ohio.

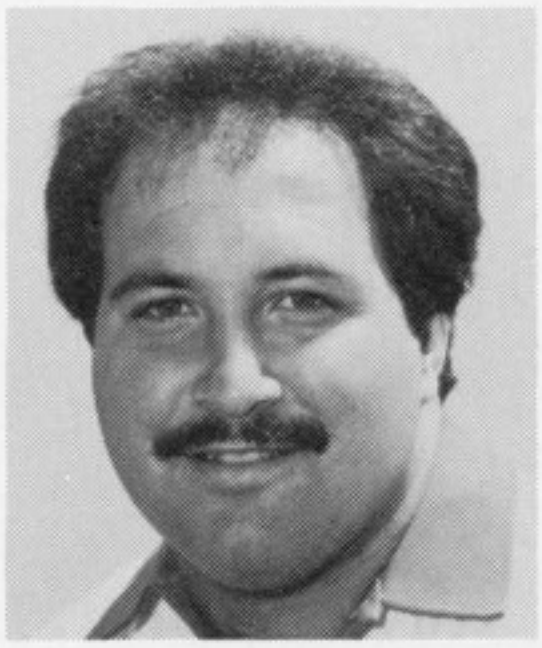
Urbanic is also no stranger to college athletics, and his versatility is obvious by his experience at Bethany College, where he served as Assistant Football Coach, Head Swimming Coach and Assistant Track Coach.

Coach Fazio said, "Andy is a dedicated coach and a good recruiter. Much of the success that Bryan Thomas enjoyed in 1981 can be attributed to Andy's persistent coaching."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Dillonvale High School, Dillonvale, Ohio, Head Football Coach, Head Basketball Coach, Assistant Basketball Coach, 1959-62; Triadelphia High School, Wheeling, W.Va., Head Football Coach, Assistant Track Coach, 1962; Wheeling Central Catholic High School, Wheeling, W.Va., Head Football Coach, 1964-68; Penn Hills High School, Head Football Coach, 1969-80. COLLEGE — Bethany College, Assistant Football Coach, Head Swimming Coach, Assistant Track Coach, 1963.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth — 9/7/37. Alma Mater: Scott Township High School; Bethany College, undergraduate, West Virginia University, graduate. Married to the former Dorothy Gross. Parents of two children, Andrea Lynn (14) and Stacy Ann (7). The Urbanics live in Penn Hills.

Part-Time Assistant Coaches



John Latina

Part-Time Assistant/Tight Ends

A western Pennsylvania native from New Castle, John Latina joined the Panther staff this past summer after attaining playing and coaching experience at Virginia Tech.

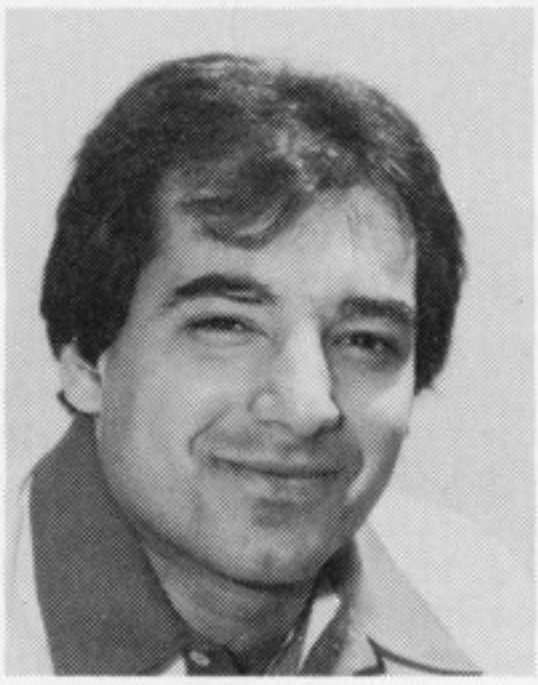
While at Virginia, Latina was a starting offensive lineman for three years and earned four varsity letters. He then joined the coaching staff in 1979 as a graduate assistant in charge of the offensive line and specialty teams.

At New Castle High School, Latina won three varsity letters in football and was All-Conference (2 years), All-State and a Letterman's Magazine All-America.

Coach Fazio said, "John was an outstanding football player in his own right at Virginia Tech. He brings with him some experience that he gained as a graduate assistant there. He should be able to handle the tight end positions for us."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — Virginia Tech, offensive line and specialty teams, graduate assistant, 1979-81.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 9/18/57. Alma Mater: Virginia Tech, 1979. Married to the former Michele Veltre.



Jim Miceli

Part-Time Assistant/Defensive Line

After a one year leave, Jim Miceli returns to Pitt as a part-time coach of the defensive line. He is a former offensive lineman at Southern Connecticut, and coached both at the high school and college levels.

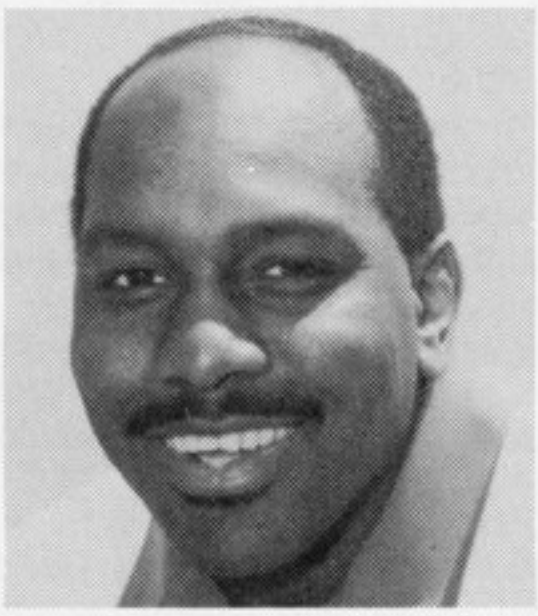
Miceli coached the offensive line and was recruiting coordinator in 1979 at Milford Academy (Conn.), before joining the Pitt staff as a part-time offensive line coach in 1980. This past year he returned to the New England area as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Milford, where he coached two current Pitt freshmen, Darnell Stone and John Reese.

An All-League offensive lineman at Ryeneck High School, he earned three varsity letters, and was a two-year letterman at Southern Connecticut where he earned a B.S. in Education.

Coach Fazio said, "Jimmy brings back a lot of experience. He's a very enthusiastic person and will help Donnie Thompson coach the defensive line."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Milford Academy, Connecticut, offensive line and recruiting coordinator, 1979; assistant head coach and defensive coordinator, 1981-82. COLLEGE — Pitt, part-time assistant offensive line, 1980.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 4/24/57. Alma Mater: Southern Connecticut, 1979. Miceli is single.



Desmond Robinson

Part-Time Assistant/Defensive Backs

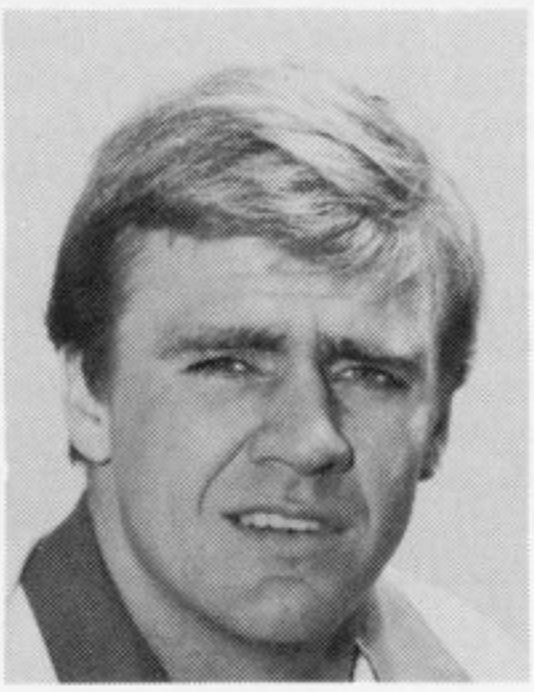
No novice to Foge Fazio's coaching, Desmond Robinson returns to his alma mater as a part-time assistant of the defensive backs. Robinson was a member of the 1976 National Championship Partner team and played both defensive end and linebacker. A 1978 graduate of Pitt, he earned two varsity letters under Fazio's guidance.

The Atlanta native was a versatile athlete at West Fulton High School and an honorable mention All-State performer while winning three letters in football and golf, and four letters in soccer. He also served as a part-time coach at West Fulton, responsible for the linebackers and defensive ends.

Coach Fazio said, "Desmond is one of our own, and although he is young, he has shown ability to coach the defensive back position."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — West Fulton, Atlanta, GA, part-time coach linebackers and defensive ends.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 9/29/56. Alma Mater: Pitt, 1978. Married to the former Pearlena Williams.



Mike Sherman

Part-Time Assistant/Offensive Line

Mike Sherman came from New England in 1981 to join the Pitt staff after playing at Central Connecticut State College and coaching high school and prep school in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

At Central Connecticut, Sherman played offensive tackle under the guidance of Bill Loika, one of the most respected Division II coaches in the country. He also played semi-pro ball for the Marlboro Shamrocks in Marlboro, Mass.

Following a successful college career, Sherman coached football and taught high school English for three years. In 1978, he coached the Stamford (CT.) High School's offensive and defensive lines, helping them to a 7-2 season. From 1979 to his move to Pitt in 1981, he was offensive line coach and defensive coordinator at Worcester Academy. His team became the 1980 Class "A" New England Prep School Champions with an undefeated season.

Coach Fazio said, "Mike has shown his ability not only to motivate, but he's also a great teacher — a very, very hard worker and a dedicated person to our program. Mike will be an outstanding college coach."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Stamford High School, Stamford, CT, 1978; Worcester Academy, Worcester, MA, 1979-81. COLLEGE — joined Pitt staff in July 1981.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 12/19/54. Hometown: Northboro, Mass. Alma Mater: Central Connecticut State College, 1978. Hobbies: skiing, fishing, "sugar-bowling." Sherman is single.

The Panther Support Staff

Tom Connors

Head Equipment Manager

Tom Connors, who has been directly and indirectly associated with the Pitt athletic program since he was seven years old, begins his fifth season as Head Equipment Manager at Pitt.

Tom's relationship with Pitt goes back to his childhood days when his Dad brought him to work at Pitt. His father, "Boo," was the head equipment man at Pitt for 25 years.

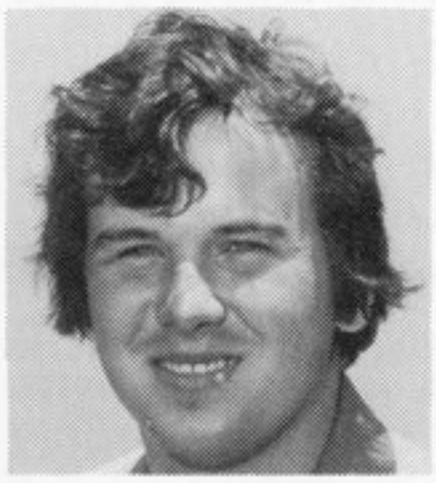
Tom has learned to handle such a large operation at such a young age (27 years old) from working with three of the most knowledgeable equipment people in the business—his father, Tony Parisi of the Steelers, and Jack Hart, formerly of the Steelers.

Connors' duties include maintaining equipment supplies, equipment distribution and supervision of the locker room area and field.

Before becoming Head Equipment Manager at Pitt, Connors served as his father's assistant, and periodically assisted the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1969 to 1975.

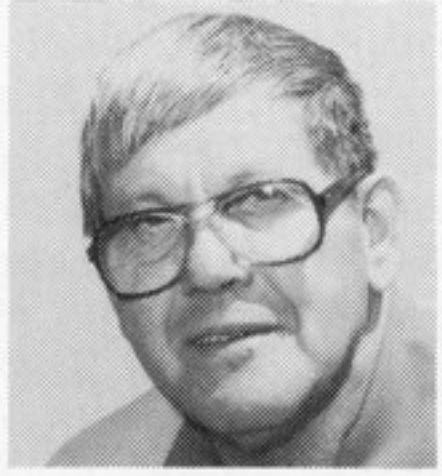
Coach Fazio said, "Tommy has known the business and has been around Pitt football and equipment for many, many years. He knows the job inside and out."

Tom resides in Oakland.

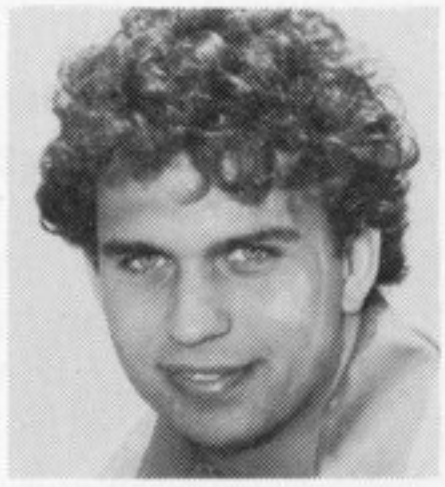


Glenn Burdick
Asst. Equipment Manager

Boo Connors
Locker Room Supervisor



Turk King
Volunteer Equipment Assistant



John Dzuban
Head Student Manager

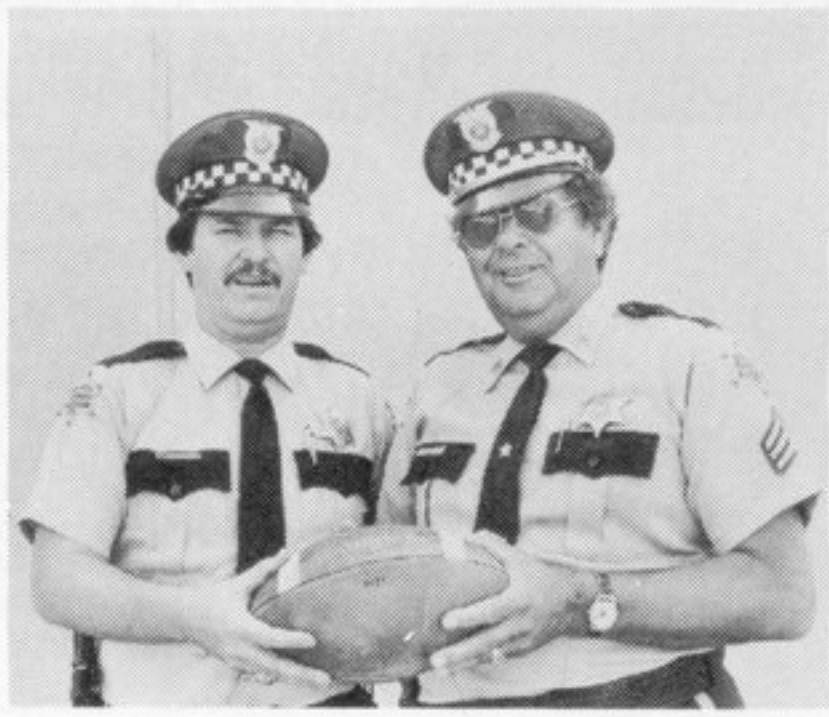
Kenny Bashioum
Volunteer Football Office Assistant

TEAM SECURITY

For the past six years, Allegheny County Sheriff Eugene L. Coon has teamed with the Pitt Athletic Department providing security services for the Pitt football team.

Sergeant Ray Goga (right) and Deputy John Parker (left) of the Sheriff's Office donate their own time to assist Coach Foge Fazio and the Panther team.



THE MEDICAL CARE OF PANTHER ATHLETES

The Pitt Panthers receive superior medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine, under the direction of Dr. James H. McMaster, Director of the Department of Orthopedic Surgery of Allegheny General Hospital and Dr. Richard L. Ray, team physician and orthopedic surgeon.

In addition to its physicians, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Kip Smith is the Head Athletic Trainer who oversees the management of all the training rooms and their services to the athletes. He is also the head football trainer and is assisted by Francis Feld. David Perrin coordinates the athletic training education curriculum and works with the Field House sports.

Under the supervision of Doctors Ray and McMaster, the Division of Sports Medicine has sponsored a daily sports medicine clinic over the past ten years, where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated. In addition to Ray and McMaster are more than a dozen consultants from various departments of the medical school, who provide comprehensive coverage to the more than 500 male and female varsity athletes.

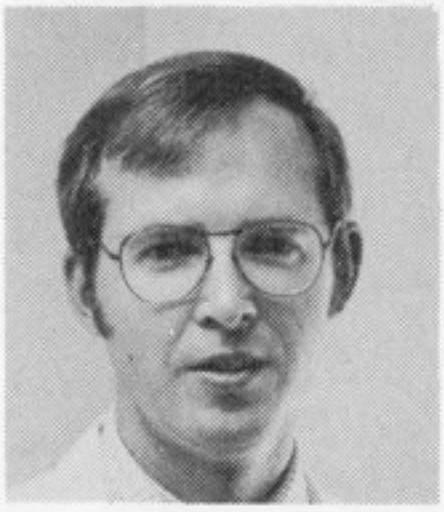
The University of Pittsburgh offers an N.A.T.A.-approved undergraduate curriculum designed to prepare students for the certification examination. This program was established in 1975 and is offered through the School of Education, Program in Health, Physical and Recreation Education.

Because of the need for certified athletic trainers on the secondary school level, N.A.T.A. has introduced the concept of the teacher-trainer. Students enrolling in athletic training curricula are strongly recommended to pursue a teaching certificate program. A unique feature of the program is that students can major in any teaching curriculum while pursuing a career in athletic training.

The program is one of a few in the country open to both education and physical therapy majors.

With this extensive program, an additional responsibility of the athletic trainer at Pitt is teaching the Athletic Training and Sports Medicine curriculum.

As well as servicing all 19 athletic teams at the University, the Pitt training staff serves as consultants and participants in clinics throughout the area.



Dr. Richard Ray

Team Physician

Dr. Richard Ray joined the Pitt athletic staff as the team physician and orthopaedic surgeon in 1979.

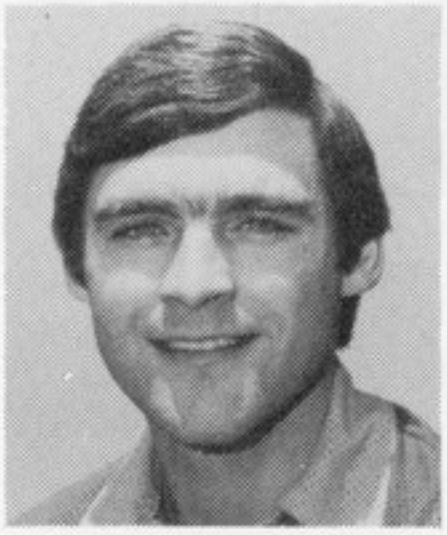
He received his undergraduate degree from Kenyon College and his graduate degree from the University of Pittsburgh. His internship and residency were served at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke Medical Center in Chicago and the University of Pittsburgh. He studied under a Peabody Fellowship at Massachusetts General Hospital in 1977-78.

Ray was a teaching fellow in orthopaedic surgery at the University of Pittsburgh from 1971-74 and an instructor in orthopaedic surgery at the Harvard Medical School from 1977-78.

He served as a Lt. Commander and Chief of Orthopaedics at the U.S. Naval Regional Medical Center in Yokosurka, Japan from 1974-76 and as a staff orthopaedic surgeon at the Naval Submarine Medical Center (Groton, CT) in 1976-77.

He is currently on the staff of Allegheny General Hospital and Presbyterian Hospital and is a consulting physician at Braddock General and Children's Hospitals. He is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery at Pitt and chairman of the medical committee for the Allegheny County Special Olympics.

Ray is currently co-director of the University Division of Sports Medicine with Dr. James McMaster. Under their supervision, the Division of Sports Medicine sponsors a daily sports medicine clinic, where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated.



Kip Smith

Head Football Trainer

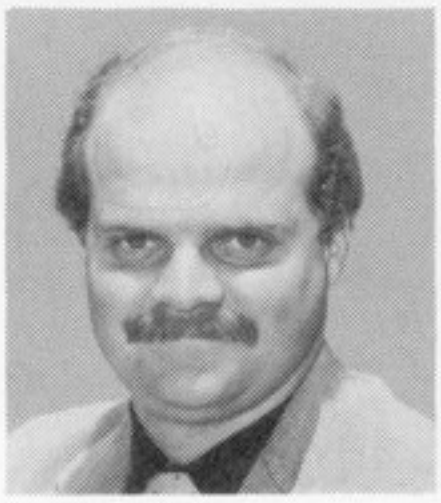
Kip Smith joined the Pitt staff in 1974 and currently directs the training room for the Panther football squad.

A native of Mentone, Indiana, Kip attended Indiana State (Terre Haute) University where he majored in physical education with a specialization in athletic training. He received his masters degree from the University of Arizona.

He served as the head athletic trainer at Tucson (Arizona) High School before coming to Pitt. As an assistant athletic trainer at Pitt, Kip covered three football bowl games as well as the NIT (basketball) Tournament. He was elevated to head trainer in 1977 and has covered five more football bowl games since.

Kip has lectured and directed several clinics and sports medicine workshops, along with helping to coordinate the education curriculum in athletic training at Pitt.

Kip and his wife Debbie (Kiefner) have two children: Stacey 5, and Jason 3.



Francis Feld

Athletic Trainer

Francis Feld joined the Pitt staff as an athletic trainer and clinical instructor in the Division of Sports Medicine in 1978. Prior to that, he was head athletic trainer for two years at Center Township High School.

Francis is a 1976 graduate of Pitt. He earned a B.S. degree in History and Sociology, with a specialization in athletic training.

He has lectured at various high school and midget football league clinics in the area.

A native of North Beaver (Mohawk High School) Township, Francis is single.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES FOR PITT ATHLETES

Heavy demands, both on and off the field, are placed on all athletes at the University of Pittsburgh. The University is known for academic excellence, with a wide range of liberal arts and professional degree programs. The recent curriculum reform with the College of Arts & Sciences reaffirms this desire for excellence. As students, members of the football team must take a full schedule of classes, while at the same time practicing, travelling, and competing in their sport. It is important that these athletes make progress toward their degree in the few years they are here at Pitt.

Because of this commitment to both athletics and academics, the University established the Office of Support Services for Athletes in 1976. This office exists solely to assist all Pitt athletes in defining and reaching their academic goals. Many services are offered. Basic skills are assessed and an academic profile is developed. Learning and study skills are strengthened through programs coordinated through the office. Academic advising is offered, as is personal and career counseling. Class performance is regularly checked, and a full tutoring service is made available for those who request it. Most importantly, the support service staff monitors the progress each athlete makes toward his degree.

The director of Athletic Support Services is Paul Yuna. Yuna, who has worked in the office since 1977, is a former Pitt football letterman and holds a Master's degree in Counseling. He is assisted by David Pistolesi, who holds a Master's degree in History from Pitt, and Lloyd Weston, a former Pitt football All-America and doctoral candidate in the School of Education. Jean Wilson is the administrative assistant and coordinator of day-to-day office activities. The newest member of the staff is Ruth Davis, who is affiliated with Pitt's Learning Skills Center. In addition to this full-time staff, there are two part-time advisors and several tutors.

THE UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

The University Athletic Committee acts as a consultative body to the Chancellor, and at his request, to members of his staff on all matters relating to athletic policy and procedures.

The members of the University Athletic Committee are:

Dr. John O. Bolvin, Chairman
Mr. Frank Bolden
Dr. Edward E. Bozik — Director of Athletics
Ms. Sandra Bullman — Ex Officio
Dr. Toby Chapman
Dr. Rose Constantino
Mr. Charles L. Cost

Departmental Support Services

Alex Kramer

Administrative Assistant

As Administrative Assistant, Alex Kramer coordinates many Athletic Department activities.

Alex and his family have always been big Pitt fans, even though Alex was born and raised on the Bluff, when Duquesne was a national power in the 1930's. Alex recalls his father taking him to the B&O Railroad Station to meet the 1937 National Championship team after its 10-0 win over Duke.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Kramer was a football manager from 1948-51 and during his tenure, served four different coaches: Mike Milligan, John Chikerneo, Len Casanova and Captain Hamilton. He was manager of the 1950 freshmen team, a team that was the first frosh team to go undefeated.

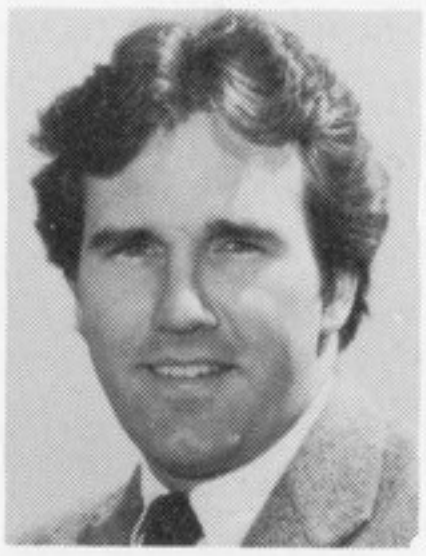
As an undergraduate at Pitt, Alex roomed with Joe Schmidt, the former Panther great and pro football coach.

Alex joined the Pitt staff in July of 1978 to serve as Administrative Assistant. This topped a long-time association in which Alex was active in alumni and Golden Panthers affairs.

Prior to joining the Pitt staff, Alex was director of curriculum in the Moon Area School District. He had been with the Moon Area Schools since 1956.

Coach Fazio said, "Alex is always very organized, very loyal, and a Pitt Alumnus who takes his job very, very seriously. Alex is a person that the department cannot get along without."

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 7/8/29. Hometown: Pittsburgh, PA. Alma Mater: Pitt '52-M.A. at Pitt '61. Married to the former Betty McCormick and father of Charles (24) and Michele (20).



Joe Duff

Recruiting Coordinator

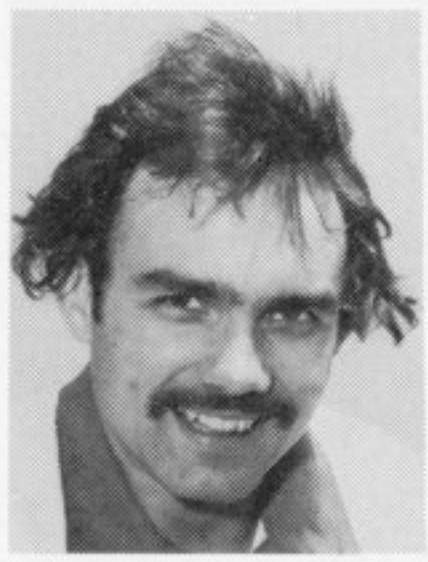
Joe Duff, a Mt. Lebanon, PA native with a wide background in marketing, promotions and athletics, was named the new recruiting coordinator for the Pitt Athletic Department by Athletic Director Ed Bozik this past spring.

As the new recruiting coordinator for the overall Pitt athletic program, Duff will oversee the recruiting efforts of all sports. He was recently employed as an account executive by Municipal Publications, Inc., a parent company for Philadelphia and Boston Magazines. Prior to his stint with Municipal Publications, Duff served as AMF and Head Sportswear's Mid-Atlantic sales representative from 1978 to 1980. From 1976 to 1978 Duff was a partner in the World Champion Sports firm which represented sporting goods manufacturers as well as being involved in fund raising activities. He originally joined the Pitt staff in 1974 assisting former Pitt head football coach Johnny Majors with scouting and recruiting as a Graduate Assistant.

"He's a local product who has experience in the Philadelphia area as well," said Pitt head football coach "Foge" Fazio. "Joe is a very personable, bright, and intelligent young man who should be of great benefit to our football and recruiting program."

"I feel my varied experiences in marketing and promotions along with my athletic background will prove valuable for both Pitt and myself," said Duff.

Duff attended Boston University from 1972 to 1974 before transferring to Pitt where he received a B.A. in Communications in 1979. A Mt. Lebanon High School graduate, Duff earned six varsity letters there — two in football, track and hockey. Duff is married to the former Patrice M. Mannion and the couple currently reside in Bridgeville, PA.



Charles "Buddy" Morris

Weight Training Coordinator

Charles "Buddy" Morris begins his third year on the Pitt staff as Weight Training Coordinator. Morris has established and implemented a strength, flexibility and conditioning program for Pitt athletes.

A native of Pittsburgh, Morris attended South Park High School before receiving a track scholarship at Indiana State (Terre Haute) but left there and came to Pitt after his freshman season. He was a member of the Panther track squad under Coach Mike Agostinella. He is a 1980 graduate of Pitt.

No stranger to the Pitt weight room, Morris has worked with Bob Jury, Jeff Delaney, and CMU's Gusty Sunseri, helping them develop strength and speed.

Morris has found that the key to motivating the players to work hard is working along side of them.

"You have to look the part to sell the product," he said. "It takes hard work and a lot of time to develop your body properly. Occasional lifting doesn't work for the players' benefit. You have to be consistent."

Coach Fazio said, "Buddy does an outstanding job, and although rather young for the position, has gained a tremendous amount of experience. His reputation as being one of the top weight and strength coaches in the United States is growing and growing."

Personal Information: Hometown: South Park, PA. Alma Mater: Pitt '80. Married to the former Pitt high jumper Karen Krichko.

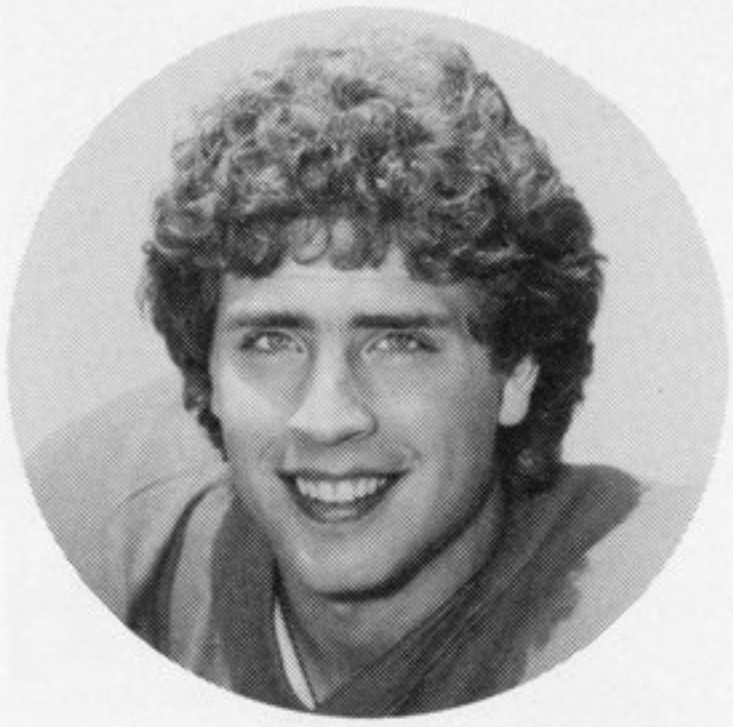
THE 1982 PITT PANTHERS

HEISMAN TROPHY CANDIDATE

ALL-AMERICA



DAN MARINO

Quarterback 6-4, 215

Senior Pittsburgh, PA

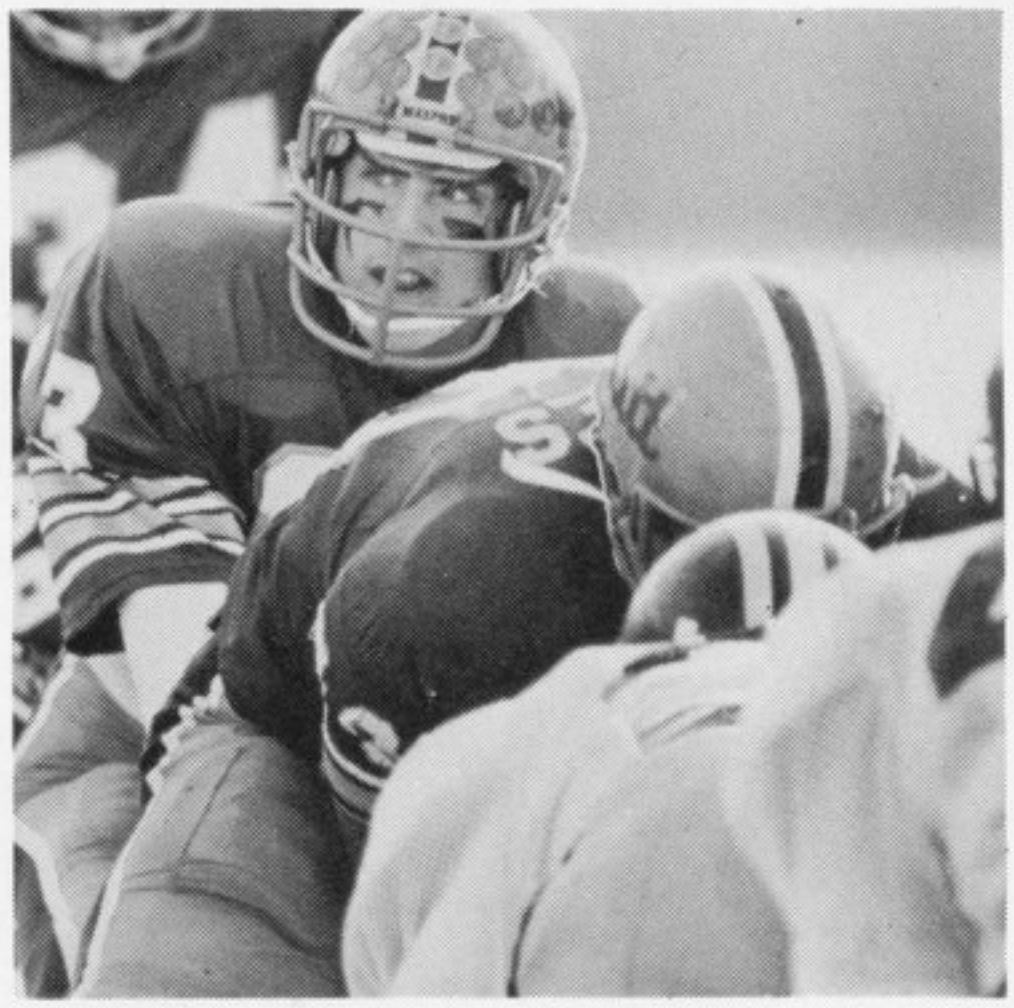
In the super-hype world of college athletics where praise is passed about with the greatest of ease, Pitt senior quarterback Dan Marino is that rarest of young men whose advance billing is really no overkill.

On the field, Marino makes all the PR hype come to life. Just ask one of Marino's countless admirers — a legion of football experts that has swelled to considerable proportions after three years of spectacular play. Says no less an authority on the passing game and college football than Florida State Head Coach Bobby Bowden, "Marino will dominate college quarterbacks for as long as he's around . . . he's a great passer . . . he's unbelievable. He's a pro quarterback in college, really."

Obviously, plenty of people agree with Bowden. Last season as a junior Marino was named All-America — being named to four first-team All-America squads (including the prestigious Kodak All-America squad as picked by the American Football Coaches Association) and finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy balloting with 256 points (16 first place votes, 51 second, 106 third). His strong showing makes him a bona fide front runner for the award this season, along with Georgia's Herschel Walker, whom he outplayed in a head-to-head matchup in last January's Sugar Bowl.

When it comes to determining the nation's most outstanding player, Marino does not lack for credentials. The 6-4, 215-pound senior stands both literally and figuratively above the crowd. Leading the Panthers to another superb 11-1 season, a #2 national ranking (UPI) and a Sugar Bowl crown last season, Marino completed an incredible 60% of his passes (226-380) for 2,876 yards and 37 touchdowns. He ranked second in passing efficiency (144.5 rating points) just behind BYU's record-setting Jim McMahon, and was seventh (250.9 yards/game) in total offense. Along the way, the Pittsburgh native set a bundle of Pitt passing records including TD passes in one season (37) and in a career (62), passing yardage in one season (2,876 yards), and career completions (472) to name a few. His accomplishments were highlighted by an awesome aerial display in the Sugar Bowl when he shredded a proud Georgia defense for 26 completions, good for 261 yards and three touchdowns on his way to MVP honors. And, his dramatic 33-yard touchdown toss to tight end John Brown with just 35 seconds remaining that sealed Pitt's come-from-behind 24-20 win, provided college football with one of its most dramatic moments of 1981.



While the talented signal-caller had a year that most quarterbacks can only dream about, it was not his first vintage seasonal performance. Dan Marino has been a remarkable college quarterback for three years. How else could he have become Pitt's all-time leading passer (6,165 yards) with still a season remaining to play. In his career, Marino has passed for over 200 yards no less than 20 times against such powers as Penn State, Maryland, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida State.

As a highly-heralded freshman, he became the starter midway through the 1979 season and led Pitt to a Fiesta Bowl crown, a Top 10 finish, and one of the best records (11-1) in the school's history. In the process, he was rated as the NCAA's 10th leading quarterback — the top finish by a freshman that year. He picked up in 1980 where he left off in '79, before a knee injury (vs. West Virginia) forced him to the sidelines for three games. But, the gutty sophomore came back on a knee that would eventually require off-season surgery, to share the quarterbacking duties with Rick Trocano for the final four games of the season, still managing to throw for 15 touchdown passes and hit on over 52% of his throws. He was instrumental in a Pitt passing attack that set a team record for passing in a single season (3,185 yards). With 5,932 total yards after three years, Marino goes into the 1982 season only 595 yards short of overtaking the fabled Tony Dorsett, to become Pitt's all-time total offensive leader. His presence at Pitt is largely responsible for the Panthers' 33-3 record over the last three years — the best record in college football in that span.

Pressure? Marino remains well protected by his offensive line as he drops back to pass . . .

A classic drop-back passer, Marino's 6-4 stature makes him ideal as a pocket-passer, and is that rare quarterback specimen who impresses people as much with his unshakable poise as with his pinpoint accuracy and lightning quick release. Such polish was on display for a national TV audience to view during last season's Sugar Bowl, when he rallied the Panthers from behind not once . . . not twice . . . but three times — climaxing with a 12-play, 80-yard drive in the last three minutes to pull out the Pitt win.

Like few quarterbacks in the country, Marino has shown he can dominate a game with his passing. He's that rare athlete that makes things happen. As a case in point, in his very first college appearance, he threw three consecutive passes — his first, a toss into the endzone that was intercepted, the second was nearly picked off, and the third went for a touchdown. Former Pitt Coach Jackie Sherrill, who played with both Ken Stabler and Joe Namath at Alabama, rates Marino ahead of these past All-Americas at similar stages of their careers.

Even in an era when there seems to be an abundance of college football talent, Dan Marino is a most unusual football player . . . his achievements speak very well to that.

Marino went to high school at Central Catholic High, in the shadow of Pitt's campus . . . he has been a quarterback since the fourth grade . . . was All-Everything in high school and was one of the top two most sought-after high school quarterbacks in the country . . . was drafted in the 4th round of the major league baseball draft by the Kansas City Royals in 1979 . . . a communications major at Pitt with over a 3.0 QPA, Marino was nominated as an Academic All-America last season . . . was born 9/15/61 . . . son of Dan and Veronica Marino.

MARINO'S PASSING STATISTICS

YEAR	ATTD	COMP	PCT	YARDS	TOUCHDOWNS	INTERCEPTIONS
1979	222	130	.586	1,680	10	9
1980	224	116	.518	1,609	15	14
1981	380	226	.595	2,876	37	23
TOTALS	826	472	.571	6,135	62	46

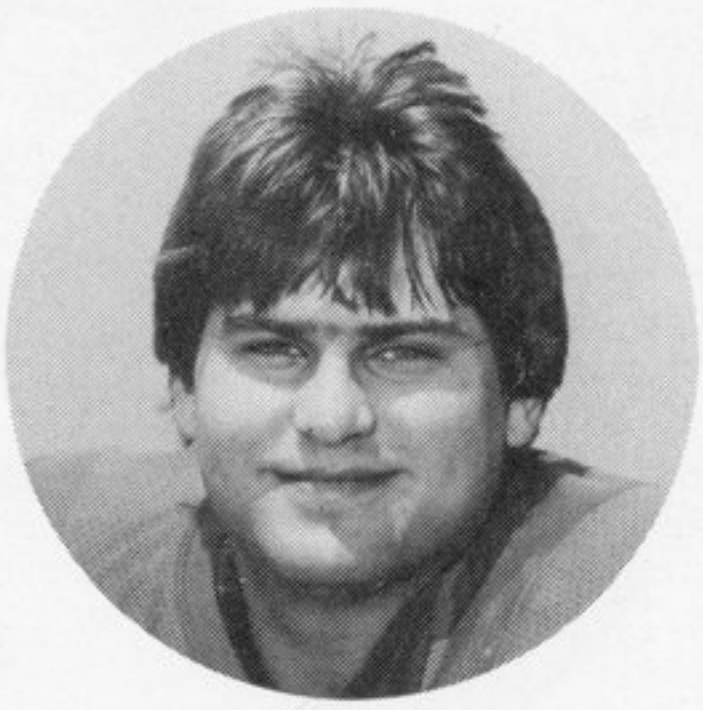
OUTLAND TROPHY CANDIDATE

ALL-AMERICA



JIMBO COVERT

Offensive Tackle 6-5, 275

Senior Conway, PA

Webster's Dictionary gets right to the point of things. It's right there in black and white.

Awe-some - ŏ́-šum/adj 1. b: the power to inspire dread.

But Pitt Assistant Head Coach and offensive line coach Joe Moore doesn't need Webster's help in choosing the one word to describe Outland Trophy candidate, All-America Jimbo Covert.

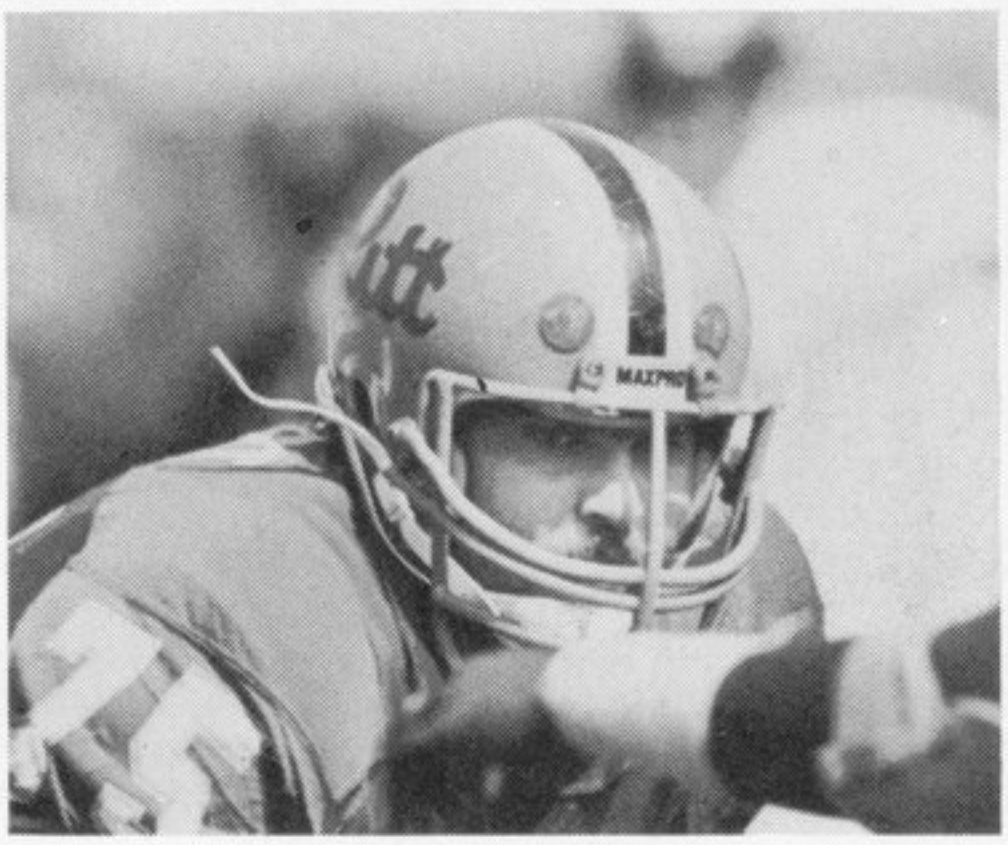
"Awesome," marvels Moore. "He has the potential to become the best offensive tackle in Pitt history," says Covert's mentor, "and that's saying a lot since we had a fellow a couple of years ago named Mark May."

The 6-5, 275 pound offensive tackle made the switch from defense — where he saw considerable action in short yardage and goal-line situations — to offense his sophomore season, and has since been inspiring a whole bundle of dread in defensive linemen. A two-year starter Covert is massive (275 pounds), but quick (4.85 in the 40) . . . strong, but agile. He usually faces the opposition's best defensive lineman, but his performances have been so outstanding that he was named first team All-America in 1981 by the Football News and the NEA (Newspaper Enterprise Association). He also received honorable mention A-A status from The Sporting News. One of those rare offensive linemen who is equally adept at both run and pass blocking, Pitt's short side runs and traps to his side last season averaged over 10 yards an attempt. Moore finds himself hard-pressed to recall a quarterback sack in which Covert has been responsible — not bad on a team that has averaged almost 34 passing attempts per game over the last two years.

Pitt Head Football Coach Foge Fazio agrees with Moore's assessment. "He's the dominant force in our pass protection," claims Fazio. "And on the run he comes off the ball with a great deal of force — driving his man back two and three yards on every play. I have yet to see someone dominate him."

Covert also compares very favorably to Pitt's last Outland Trophy winner, Mark May, according to Fazio.

"Jimbo has as much athletic ability as Mark, and he's probably more aggressive and more physical than Mark was."



A fifth-year senior who was red-shirted in his sophomore year due to a shoulder injury, Covert is an exceptional athlete and was considered the top lineman in Pennsylvania his senior year at Freedom High School. He was a three-year letterwinner in both football and wrestling in high school, captained both squads his senior season, and in wrestling was a WPIAL Section 12 champion and State placewinner at heavyweight. An English literature major at Pitt, Jimbo was born on March 22, 1960, to John and Patricia Covert of Conway, Pennsylvania.

JULIUS DAWKINS

Split End 6-3, 187

Senior Monessen, PA

It didn't take Julius Dawkins long to establish a reputation as one of the top receivers in the collegiate ranks. In only his first year of full-time duty last season he was honored with first Team All-America status by the Associated Press and garnered Honorable Mention All-America honors from The Sports News, and UPI. If such a meteroric rise in recognition seems a little bit unbelievable, it really shouldn't be. After all, the Parade Magazine high school All-America was one of the focal points of a passing attack that was rated one of the best in the country last year, and could very well be the premier aerial show this season. Dawkins led the Panther receiving corps with 46 receptions good for 767 yards and 16 touchdowns. His 15 regular season TD grabs led the NCAA in that category in 1981 and he was 12th in scoring (8.18 points/game). In fact, on the average, every third pass he caught went for six points. Those are not bad numbers for a receiver who entered the 1981 season with a mere 16 career receptions and zero touchdowns. The 6-3 senior recorded a team-high eight receptions for 119 yards versus Cincinnati last year and latched on to four TD passes twice, against the same Bearcats and Army. Dawkins holds the Pitt all-time records for touchdown passes received in one game (4) and in a single season (16). Blessed with outstanding speed and 'pro' size, this three year letterman is a constant deep threat as witnessed by his being on the end of 65-yard and 53-yard touchdown bombs last year. Despite being double-teamed most of the time, Dawkins was one of the most consistent receivers in the country last year, catching at least two passes in 11 of the Panthers' 12 games. Dawkins was also instrumental in Pitt's Sugar Bowl victory with six catches and one touchdown reception. Comments Pitt head coach Foge Fazio, "Julius proved what he can do last year, and we're expecting an even better season from him this fall. He has great speed, excellent hands, and jumps well — just great athletic ability in general." He was All-Everything at Monessen High School and once scored 46 points in a basketball game. Julius Dawkins was born 1/4/61 and is the son of Paul and Gloria Dawkins of Monessen, PA.

DWIGHT COLLINS

Flanker 6-1, 210

Junior Beaver Falls, PA

After a sensational freshman year that saw Collins named to the majority of frosh All-America teams while getting Pitt records for yards gained receiving in one year (827), yards gained receiving in one game (183 yds. vs. Florida State), and touchdown passes received in a single season (10), Dwight was rendered a mere mortal last season with a series of nagging injuries that caused him to miss all or some of five games. But based on his performance when healthy, there is just no denying that he has the physical tools to be one of the most outstanding flankers in the country. A game breaker who could be one of the nation's most explosive receivers, Collins averaged a touchdown every third time he caught the ball as a frosh and followed that up last year by averaging six points on every fourth reception. The 6-1 junior suffered a pulled hamstring in the Panthers' very first game last season that caused him to miss two contests. He then came back and had excellent games versus Syracuse (four catches for 53 yards) and Boston College (five catches for 70 yards) before again going down with an ankle injury during the Rutgers game which limited his playing time until the Penn State game, when he had his best day as a sophomore — latching on to six catches for 110 yards and two TD's against the Nittany Lions. This wasn't the first time he has saved his best performance for Pitt's toughest opponents. As a frosh he averaged 42 yards per catch against Tennessee and 24 yards per catch versus the Terps of Maryland. At 6-1, 210 pounds he's already built in the classic flanker mold, but what makes him almost impossible to defend is his combination of 4.3 speed (he was a PA state 100 and 200 meter sprint champion) and an incredible leaping ability reminiscent of a particular pro receiver on the other side of town — the Pittsburgh Steelers' Lynn Swann. In only two years he's recorded 50 receptions for 1,139 yards and 15 touchdowns. Summarizes Pitt receiver Coach Joe Naunchik, "Dwight is an outstanding athlete, with great, great speed." And head coach Foge Fazio adds, "With Dwight and Julius Dawkins we are blessed with probably the outstanding receiving corps in the country." One of the most highly sought after football players in the country coming out of high school, this former Parade Magazine All-America came to Pitt from the same Beaver Valley that produced Tony Dorsett. He was a high school All-America in both football and basketball, earning no less than 11 letters at Beaver Falls High School. A business major . . . Dwight Dean Collins was born 8/23/61 . . . son of Eli and Clara Collins of Beaver Falls, PA.

TOM FLYNN

Safety 6-0, 194

Junior Verona, PA

As a freshman he cracked the starting lineup of a defense ranked number one in the country; not a bad accomplishment for a first-year player on any team — let alone on a team that finished the year ranked Number 2 in the nation. And then again last season, as a mere sophomore, he was not only a fixture in the starting lineup, but also quarterbacked a secondary that was an integral part of Pitt's number one ranked defense — earning him sophomore Football News All-America status. Yes, it has taken only two short seasons for Tom Flynn to earn the reputation as one of the premier free safeties in the country. And the scary thing is — he's still learning. Last year Flynn led the Pitt secondaries with 83 total tackles and also had a team-high five interceptions. His total tackles were the most recorded by a Panther defensive back in the last six years — a period during which five Pittsburgh DBs were drafted by the pros. He seems to rise to the occasion for the big games — Flynn had five unassisted stops and one interception in last season's Sugar Bowl and had an interception against Penn State and West Virginia. His electrifying 83-yard punt return broke open a tight game with Florida State. He also broke a 41-yard return versus Maryland in 1980. Flynn is a versatile athlete who has shown the ability to return punts just as well as he coordinates the Pitt secondary from his free safety position. The 6-0 junior has deceptive speed, but he also has the bulk to support the run very effectively as witnessed by his number of tackles last year. Flynn certainly has a nose for the football with four fumble recoveries in the last two years. He has reminded people of a former Panther All-America safety — Bob Jury. Speculates his defensive backfield coach, Dino Folino, "I think he has a chance, if he continues to play the way he's played, of becoming one of the all-time great Pitt defensive players." Head Coach Foge Fazio is just as emphatic: "Tom Flynn is one of the premier free safeties in the country. He follows in the line of Bob Jury and Mike Wagner (Pittsburgh Steeler), two of the best safeties to ever play in the city of Pittsburgh." Flynn was a WPIAL AAA Player-of-the-Year at Penn Hills High School in suburban Pittsburgh, where he was All-State and honorable mention All-America — distinguishing himself as both a quarterback and defensive back. Thomas J. Flynn, one of seven brothers and sisters, was born 3/24/62 and is the son of Bernard and Mary Flynn of Verona, PA.

BILL FRALIC

Sophomore Penn Hills, PA

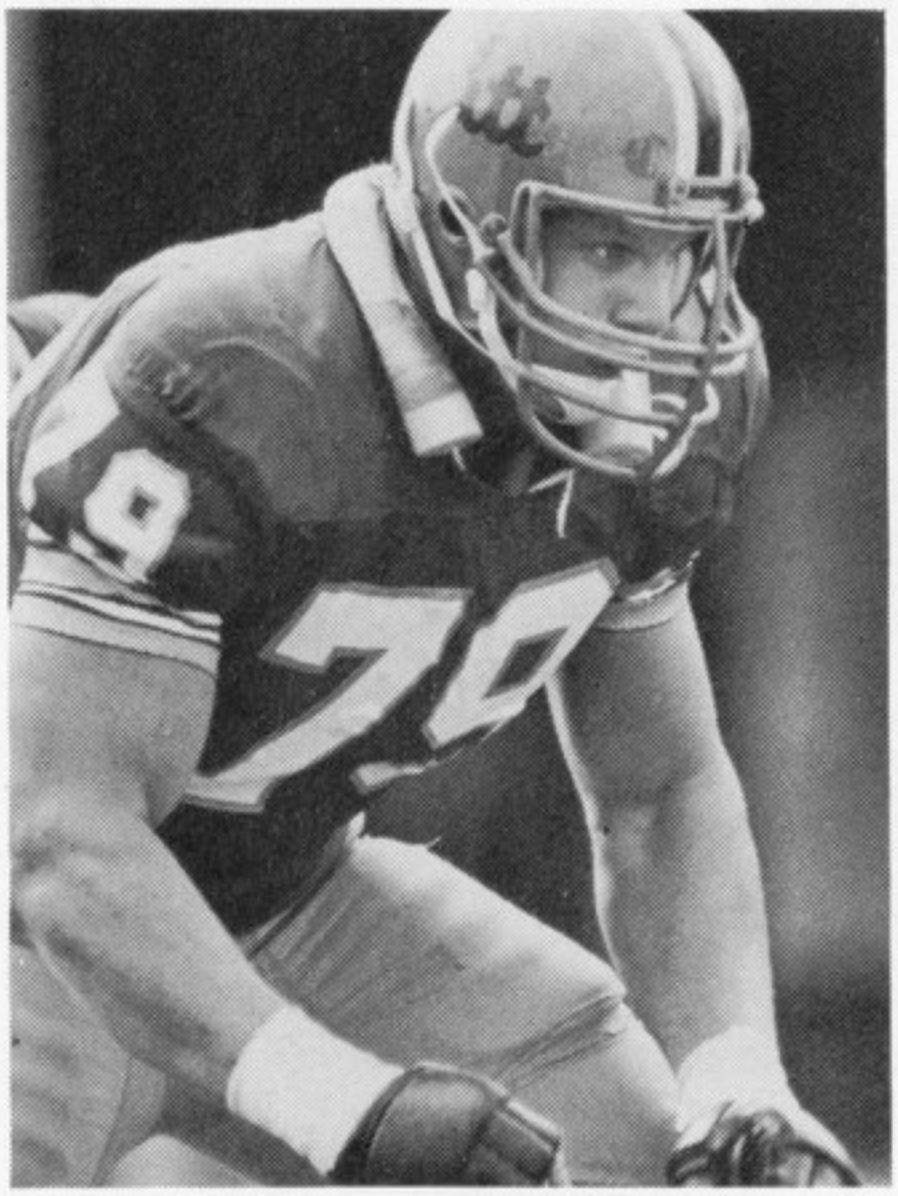
Last year Bill Fralic stepped right in at right offensive and became the first freshman to start at Pitt since Tony Dorsett did in 1973. By year's end the results of this bold move were clear. The Panthers had themselves a tackle who was desirous of greatness and who figures to achieve it. No frosh offensive lineman in the country made quite the impact Fralic did. The opinion on him was unanimous. "He played his position better than any freshman I've ever seen play any position," said Pitt offensive line coach Joe Moore, a man who has seen Hugh Green and Dan Marino perform spectacularly as freshmen. Added former Pitt Coach Jackie Sherrill, "I don't know if I've ever seen a freshman as good as Fralic. If he improves like everybody else, four years from now we may not ever see another player like that." Apparently experts agreed with these assessments as Fralic garnered Honorable Mention All-America status from the AP. With his tremendous size and strength there are few — if any — defensive linemen that can overpower him. In fact, to show how overpowering he can be Fralic graded out a perfect 100% on run blocking in a game last year versus Boston College (that means the man he was blocking never touched a ballcarrier). For that remarkable performance he was named offensive player-of-the-game by the Pitt coaches — the first time in recent memory that an award had gone to an offensive lineman. Along with his dominating run-blocking he was one of those rare offensive linemen who quickly became equally adept to the intricate art of pass-blocking. Last year he filled the tackle slot vacated by Outland Trophy Winner Mark May and there was little drop off in efficiency. He should team with Jimbo Covert to give the Panthers one of the finest tackle tandems in the country. His greatness last season was a just extension of the tremendous potential he showed at Penn Hills High School in suburban Pittsburgh. Fralic was a Parade All-America and a winner of the Dial Male Athlete-of-the-Year Award as a senior — an award won the previous year by Herschel Walker. He won eight letters in high school in football and wrestling. William P. Fralic was born 10/31/62 and is the son of William P. and Dorothy Fralic of Penn Hills, PA.



Caesar Aldisert

Lanell Anderson

Dennis Atiyeh

Marc Bailey

Caesar Aldisert* Linebacker SO/6-3/219 Mt. Lebanon, PA

Aldisert enters fall camp as the back-up eagle linebacker and could battle for a starting position . . . saw lots of action last season, especially on special teams . . . accounted for 19 tackles and one two-point conversion when he ran the ball into the endzone against Cincinnati . . . said Coach Bailey — "Caesar played both the eagle and mike linebacker positions for us this spring. He has a great sense of football and does an excellent job on pass coverage. We're going to try to get him a little stronger, working in the weight room. Caesar will play a lot of football this fall" . . . earned three letters in football and three in basketball at Mt. Lebanon High/Coach Art Walker, where he was All-State and Big 33 . . . likes to play golf in his spare time . . . a B+ student with an undecided major . . . Caesar David Aldisert was born 12/13/62 . . . son of Dr. Caesar O. and Helen M. Aldisert of Mt. Lebanon, PA.

Lanell Anderson Cornerback FR/6-2/180 Clairton, PA

Anderson enters fall camp as a back-up right cornerback . . . sat out all of last season with a shoulder injury and will begin this season with freshman eligibility . . . said Coach Folino — "Lanell had the benefit of spring practice and has moved himself into a position on the depth chart as either a corner or free safety. He is very valuable because of his versatility." . . . earned three football and four track letters at Clairton High/Coach Pat Risha . . . a business major at Pitt . . . Lanell Melvin Anderson was born 7/10/62 . . . one of three sons of Willie and Emma Anderson of Clairton, PA.

Dennis Atiyeh Linebacker SO/6-3/210 Allentown, PA

Atiyeh entered fall camp as a back-up eagle-linebacker and is expected to see plenty of special teams play . . . sustained a fractured ankle at the beginning of spring drills and missed most of the spring practice . . . said Coach Bailey — "Since Dennis missed spring drills, I did not get an overall evaluation of his abilities. I can tell you one thing about Dennis, he's a very hard worker and he really wants to play the game. From my standpoint, he's a totally dedicated person and the type that I really look forward to working with." . . . earned a letter at Pitt in wrestling this winter under Coach Rande Stottlemyer . . . earned three letters in football and three in wrestling at Dieruff High/Coach Larry Lewis, where he was All-State in both sports, Big 33 in football and a participant in the Pittsburgh Press Wrestling Classic . . . brother Joe was an All-America wrestler at LSU and brother George was an All-America football player at LSU and free agent with the Philadelphia Eagles . . . says "my family has been my inspiration all my life" . . . enjoys fishing in his spare time . . . undecided major at Pitt . . . has four brothers and two sisters . . . Dennis James Atiyeh was born 9/18/63 . . . son of Arif and Jamilie Atiyeh of Allentown, PA.

Marc Bailey* Fullback JR/6-0/208 King of Prussia, PA

Bailey goes into fall camp listed as the back-up fullback behind Marlon McIntyre . . . got his first varsity touchdown against Army last season and had a 24-yard run against Rutgers . . . also returned two kickoffs for 23 yards . . . said Coach Urbanic — "Marc's becoming a very sound blocker and a great athlete. He can catch very well and he runs very well. He's a good, solid all-around performer." . . . earned three football, two basketball and two baseball letters at Upper Merion High/Coach Richard Como, where he was a high school All-America and Big 33 selection . . . likes to read magazines and newspapers and listen to music in his spare time . . . a Communications major at Pitt . . . his Uncle Sam Solemn has trained Sonny Liston, Leon Spinks and, recently, Saad Muhumad to world championships in their respective boxing classes . . . nicknamed "Beetle" after the cartoon character . . . Marc A. Bailey was born 8/3/62 . . . one of two sons of Harry and Louise Bailey of King of Prussia, PA.

John Brown Tight End SR/6-4/220 Lower Burrell, PA

No one will forget the catch — with 42 seconds left on the clock at the Superdome, Dan Marino dropped back about ten yards and let loose with the bomb and John Brown came up with THE catch, officially a 33-yarder, that not only won the 1982 Sugar Bowl, but engraved the name of John Brown in the minds of Pitt football fans forever . . . was switched to the tight end position from flanker two years ago and started every game last season at that position . . . said Coach Naunchik — "John adapted to the tight end position very well. John's attributes are his great speed and the ability to catch the ball in a crowd. He had an outstanding season last year. With improved strength this year, and more weight, he could become one of the outstanding tight ends in the country this season." . . . said Coach Fazio — "We have probably one of the finest pass catching tight ends in the country in John Brown. He might not have the size of the other tight ends for blocking, but he gets the job done." . . . attended the Naval Academy Prep School in Newport, RI and Marine Military Academy in Harlingen, TX, where he was All-Rio Grande Valley in football and basketball and the Rio Grande Valley Champion in both the 100 and 200 meter dashes . . . earned letters in football, basketball, track and baseball at Burrell High/Coach George Geyer, where he was All-Everything . . . last season's highlights included 85 yards and three touchdowns, including a 28-yard touchdown

Christy sat out most of last season with a torn cartilage in his knee that was surgically repaired/missed half of spring practice on rehabilitation . . . started two games last season before his injury . . . said Coach Moore — "Greg Christy's probably the best kept secret at Pitt. He couldn't practice a lot this spring because of his injury, so we're hoping to get him back at full speed this fall. The two games he did start for us last season, he did an outstanding job. He's the biggest lineman we have and I feel that he's not really that far behind Covert and Fralic. With proper healing of his injury, he's got a great future ahead of him. He could give the others a run for their money on the starting positions. I have great respect for Greg. He has a chance to be a truly outstanding football player, as good as anybody who's ever played here." . . . showing his versatility, Christy was called on late last season and used briefly as a tight end — says his greatest athletic thrill at Pitt was playing tight end in the Sugar Bowl . . . likes to hunt and fish in his spare time . . . earled two football and two track letters at Freeport Senior High/Coach Don Early . . . nicknamed "Bubba" . . . an Administrative Justice major at Pitt . . . hopes to play pro ball . . . HONORABLE MENTION ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA

J. C. Pelusi Middleguard SR/6-1/250 Youngstown, OH

J.C. seems to have a lock on the starting middle guard position that he ably handled last season . . . although he's certainly made his own mark as a Panther player, he'll probably always be identified as the last of the Panther Pelusi brothers . . . brother John Pelusi played center on Pitt's National Championship team (1976), followed by Jeff, starting Pitt linebacker from 1977-79 . . . is the third top leading returning tackler from 1981 with 52 solos and 40 assists for a total of 92 tackles, 17 tackles for loss, 2½ sacks and three fumble recoveries . . . in 1979 he tackled Army quarterback Jerry Bennett in the endzone for a safety in Pitt's 40-0 win over the Cadets . . . was named third team All-America by the Football News and was District II Academic All-America (first team) and National Academic All-America (Honorable Mention) . . . said Coach Donnie Thompson — "J.C. really improved himself this spring, his quickness has improved as well as his strength. He defeats the block very well, he's always creating double teams. He's very, very strong and we expect him to be the mainstay of our line — right there in the middle this year. We're looking for a lot of big plays out of J. this fall." . . . a B+ student majoring in Economics . . . earned three football and two basketball letters at Chaney High/Coach Ed Matey . . . likes to play cards and tennis in his spare time . . . Jay Charles Pelusi was born 12/16/60 . . . son of John and JeanAnne Pelusi of Youngstown, OH.

Dave Puzzuoli Defensive Tackle SR/6-3/242 Stamford, CT

This pre-season All-America has a strong hold on the left tackle position and is a mainstay of the number-one ranked Pitt defense . . . was the fifth top returning tackler on the squad last season with a total of 78 (49 solos, 29 assists) along with five sacks and 14 tackles for loss . . . said Coach Thompson — "This spring Dave exhibited outstanding leadership as well as sharpening his techniques. He defeats blocks particularly well and he gets to the ball particularly well. He came to the front this spring not only as a good player, but as an outstanding leader as well." . . . his father played football at the University of Connecticut . . . earned nine letters in football and wrestling at Stamford Catholic High/Coach Joe Anzalone, where he played center, linebacker and defensive end and was All-State twice in both football and

Tim Quense Middle Guard SO/6-2/237 Toms River, NJ

Quense comes off a red-shirted season to hold down the back-up middle guard position behind J. C. Pelusi . . . said Coach Thompson — "Tim worked very, very had all spring, playing a variety of positions including nose and tackle. He helped us any way he could this spring. He has good size and good speed and a great attitude. We look for him to see a great deal of playing time this fall and his versatility and willingness to learn certainly enhance his chances of playing." . . . earned three football, two baseball and one track letter at Toms River North High/Coach Bob Fiocco, where he played both offensive and defensive line . . . earned one letter at Fork Union Military Academy . . . says his greatest athletic thrill at Pitt was "seeing John Brown's catch that won the Sugar Bowl" . . . respects teammate Paul Dunn because "he's an excellent football player and person." . . . a History major at Pitt . . . has three sisters and a brother . . . Timothy Joseph Quense was born 10/13/60 . . . son of Richard and Ann Quense of Toms River, NJ.

Tony Recchia Cornerback/Punter SO/5-11/180 Vandergrift, PA

Recchia walked on to the Pitt team two years ago and has impressed the coaches with his ability and determination . . . enters fall camp in the dual role as a back-up punter and back-up right corner on defense . . . said Coach Fazio — "Tony is an outstanding athlete. We worked him at defensive back in the spring — he's a good football player — and with his athletic ability he may be able to do the job. As a punter, he impresses me with his ability to get the ball off quickly." . . . said Coach Folino — "Tony was a real surprise in the spring. We didn't expect him to be as good a football player or as good an athlete as he showed us. He had a very good spring game, including an interception." . . . punted five times last year with a 38 yard longgain and an overall average of 32.4 yards . . . transferred to Pitt from Slippery Rock State College where he earned one letter in football . . . earned three letters in football and two in basketball at Kiski Area High/Coach Dick Dilts . . . father played football at St. Vincent's and a brother played at CMU . . . a Business and Communications major at Pitt . . . nicknamed "Mouse" . . . Peep Short

Ron Sams* Offensive Guard SR/6-4/263 Bridgeville, PA

Sams enters fall camp securely holding down the starting righ guard position for the second straight year . . . was mentioned with pre-season All-America honors by several magazines . . . missed most of spring practice with "turf toe" and was hampered last season with a pinched nerve and a knee sprain but is healthy and ready to go this fall . . . said Coach Joe Moore — "Moose has a chance to be a great player here at Pitt. Teamed with Rob Fada, those two should give us the best guard combination that I can ever recall at Pitt." . . . earned four football, four baseball and three basketball letters at South Fayette High/Coach Jerry Zeman . . . an avid golfer, he and his father both got holes-in-one on the same day at the same hole . . . also enjoys lifting weights and photography . . . brother Howard plays football at Fairmont State College; his father played at Waynesburg College (1957-59), and cousin Bill George was an All-American at Wake Forest and is in the Chicago Bears Hall of Fame; relatives Sam David (basketball 50's) and Joe and Dave Solomon (wrestlers) attended Pitt . . . a Psychology major and Speech minor at Pitt . . . nicknamed "Moose" after Bill "Moose" Skowron of the N.Y. Yankees — last year he said it was because he was "born with antlers" . . . Ronald F. Sams, Jr., was born 4/12/61 . . . parents are avid followers of the Pitt team . . . son of Ronald Sr. and Judith Sams of McDonald, PA.

Bill Sapio Defensive End SO/6-1/206 Voorhees, NJ

Sapio enters fall camp as a back-up right defensive end behind Michael Woods . . . said Coach Davie — "Bill is a real hard worker. He has good speed and has the potential to be a good drop end. We expect him to see a lot of special teams action this fall and look for good things from him in the future." . . . earned three football and three wrestling letters at Camden Catholic High/Coach Phil Petite, where he was All-State and an East/West All-Star and was named Outstanding Offensive Back by the Brooks-Irvine Football Club; had 95 unassisted tackles and rushed for over 800 yards his senior season . . . likes to go boating and ride dirt bikes in his spare time . . . a Business major at Pitt . . . William Joseph Sapio was born 11/4/62 . . . son of Robert and Helen Sapio of Voorhees, NJ.

Eric Schubert* Kicker SO/5-8/186 Greenwood, NJ

Schubert won himself a place in Panther fans' hearts last season with his "non-returnable" kick-offs that boomed into the endzone, reminiscent of former Panther (and Pittsburgh Steeler) Dave Trout . . . provided one of the most exciting moments in this year's spring football game when he kicked a 55-yard field goal in the fourth quarter . . . said Coach Fazio — "Eric looks like he can be another Dave Trout. The way he kicked this spring impressed us very much. He's already proved his kick-off abilities to everyone. His field goal accuracy has improved greatly — he does have the strongest leg on the team." . . . earned two football and two baseball letters at Lakeland Regional High/Coach John Federici, where he was an All-Star baseball player and captain of the football team . . . says that Dave Trout has helped him the most in his athletic career — "he taught me a lot about kicking" . . . likes to ski and play hockey in his spare time . . . a Physical Education major at Pitt . . . Eric Jon Schubert was born 5/28/62 . . . son of Marlin and Jean Schubert of Norcross, GA.

Brian Shields Linebacker SO/6-1/216 Washington, PA

Shields enters fall camp as a back-up mike linebacker . . . said Coach Bailey — "Brian was playing drop end in spring practice but I feel that his best position will be as an inside linebacker because he has good strength. Brian is one of those players with good intelligence who can make the right decision." . . . earned three football and two track letters at Trinity High/Coach Bob Johnson, where he was a Big 33 performer . . . a Pre-Med major at Pitt . . . worked for the sheriff's department this summer . . . Brian Craig Shields was born 3/15/63 . . . son of Richard and Ruth Shields of Washington, PA.

Dan "Peep" Short Safety SR/6-1/198 Aliquippa, PA

Jim Sweeney

Gary Tammaro

Bryan Thomas

. . . was awarded the Ed Conway Memorial Award at the conclusion of spring drills this past year, as the most-improved defensive player . . . played in 11 games last year and accounted for 52 tackles (36 solos, 16 assists), one tackle for loss, one fumble recovery, three broken passes and two interceptions . . . got his first start as a sophomore against Florida State and earned two letters for special teams play . . . comes from the same hometown as Pitt All-America Tony Dorsett . . . says his father has helped him the most "because he's always been behind me, pushing to the max." . . . said Coach Folino — "Peep is an excellent run support man and has come a long way as a pass defender. He's become a very efficient strong safety who consistently will make the important plays that the strong safety has to make." . . . an Administration Justice major who hopes to become a state trooper or FBI agent . . . likes to read, run and lift weights in his spare time . . . has five brothers and two sisters . . . nicknamed "Peep" (and this is his story) because when he was little he used to peep around corners and his dad would say "Frances, that boy's peeping again!" . . . earned three football, two tracks and two basketball letters at Aliquippa High/Coach Don Yannessa . . . Daniel L. Short was born 2/20/61 . . . son of Daniel and Frances Johnson of Aliquippa, PA.

Jim Sweeney* Center JR/6-4/235 Pittsburgh, PA

Sweeney starts fall camp listed as the back-up center behind Tony Magnelli, but according to Coach Moore, the starting position is still up for grabs . . . has seen plenty of action over the past two years in the back-up role and in special teams situations . . . said Coach Moore — "It's still real close to see which of the two (Sweeney/Magnelli) will win the starting job, they're both very capable. Jim has good size and is quick coming off the ball. His pass blocking is good. This could be one of the big battles for a job at camp this year. With both of them, we'll be in great shape at the center position." . . . earned two letters in football at Seton-LaSalle High/Coach Tom Donahue, where he was All-Conference, All-WPIAL . . . another local player who decided to stay home to play college football, Sweeney says "it's a great thrill to play in front of family and friends . . . and it's a lot easier to get a home cooked meal." . . . brother, Mike, plays football at Westminster College . . . lifts weights and likes to fish in his spare time . . . nicknamed "Ironman" by teammate Paul Dunn . . . a Criminology major with plans to work for the FBI . . . James Joseph Sweeney was born 8/8/62 . . . son of Charles J. and Shirley Sweeney of Pittsburgh, PA.

Gary Tammaro Fullback JR/6-0/208 Industry, PA

Tammaro will enter fall camp battling for a job as a back-up fullback . . . saw action in three games last season including a 16-yard run against Army and an eight yarder against Rutgers . . . said Coach Urbanic — "Gary's a good, solid football player. He does not have the break-away speed but will give you the power yardage. He has great short-bursts of speed. He's quicker than he is fast. He's very durable and is a good athlete — he can catch, run, and block all effectively." . . . likes to listen to music in his spare time . . . earned three football, three basketball, two track and two baseball letters at Western Beaver High/Coach Rich Nisdbalm, where he was Big 33, Post-Gazette Player-of-the-Year and Press Finest 44 . . . a Business/Economics major at Pitt . . . Gary Michael Tammaro was born 11/11/61 . . . son of John and Ellen Conway of Industry, PA.

Bill Wallace

Ray Weatherspoon

Al Wenglikowski

the Sporting News . . . enters fall camp with a strong hold on the starting halfback slot, one that he earned with a powerful performance, combined with quarterback Dan Daniels to save the day against WVU last year when QB Dan Marino was injured . . . against Florida State, turned in Pitt's first 200+ yard performance since Tony Dorsett (1976) but his most memorable performance of the season will probably be the twisting and turning 43-yard touchdown run against the Mountaineers . . . had 168 yards (including a 33 yard run) against Rutgers, but says his greatest athletic thrill so far, along with the 217 yards against Florida State was "out-rushing Herschel Walker in the Sugar Bowl" . . . he had 128 yards against Georgia in that game . . . along with leading the Panthers in rushing last season, Bryan was the third leading pass receiver with 46 receptions and 451 yards in the air . . . said Coach Urbanic — "The thing that Bryan does best — actually, Bryan does everything well — that's his biggest asset. He's a fine pass receiver, he is a good runner, he is a good blocker. He's a steady all-around performer who performs well in all aspects of the game. He's a very good thinker — smart, intelligent. He doesn't miss assignments. He's very, very steady and a great all-around football player. He doesn't possess blinding speed, but he has great moves and has great vision, which is probably his greatest strength as a running back. His awareness on the field and his great vision — he makes cuts that other running backs are not capable of making." . . . said Coach Fazio — "We feel that Bryan Thomas is simply an outstanding athlete and we plan to try to utilize him more and more this year." . . . earned letters in football, track and baseball at Elyria Catholic High/Coach Jim Rattay, is also a good ice hockey player . . . a Liberal Arts/Child Psychology major at Pitt . . . was redshirted because of a leg injury in 1979 . . . likes to ice skate (play hockey), play racquetball, and ride bikes in his spare time . . . nicknamed "B.T. Express" . . . Bryan K. Thomas was born 7/8/60 . . . one of three sons of J.B. and Frances Thomas of Oberlin, OH.

Bill Wallace* Split End JR/6-2/180 Flemington, NJ

Wallace enters fall camp working for a back-up split end spot on the depth chart . . . saw action last season including a 19-yard reception against Penn State . . . said Coach Naunchik — "Bill has excellent hands and runs good patterns. He must improve his strength and is working on his speed. He's one good receiver." . . . missed the last half of spring practice with a fractured collarbone . . . earned three letters each in football and basketball at Hunterdon Central High/Coach Charles Weaver, where he was All-Everything — his two year total of 140 catches not only attested to his ability to go up and get the ball, but also ranked him in the Top Ten in the country in all-time career catches for scholastic receivers . . . turned down a basketball scholarship to Loyola to play football at Pitt . . . undecided academic major . . . likes to ride motorcycles in his spare time . . . says his uncles Ted Stroker and Phillip Sleber have helped him the most in his athletic career . . . Bill Andrew Wallace was born 2/14/62 . . . son of Antonia Wallace of Flemington, NJ and the late William Masser.

Ray Weatherspoon Safety JR/5-11/191 Clairton, PA

Weatherspoon transferred to Pitt from Penn State and enters camp as the back-up strong safety behind Peep Short . . . said Coach Folino — "Spoon had an outstanding spring and we expect him to challenge for a starting job at either the strong safety or a corner spot." . . . earned three football, three track and two basketball letters at Clairton High/Coach Pat Risha, where he was Big 33 and MVP of the Century Conference . . . earned one letter in football at Penn State before transferring . . . says the person who has helped him the most in his athletic career is his mother, "Her love and guidance has been a vital factor in my life. She has been an inspiration to me." . . . likes to read, dance and go bowling in his spare time . . . a Communication/Information Science major at Pitt . . . has six brothers and five sisters . . . Raymond Maurice Weatherspoon was born 7/13/61 . . . son of Gloria F. Weatherspoon of Clairton, PA and the late James F. Weatherspoon.

Keith Williams

Al Wenglikowski Defensive End JR/6-1/215 Franklin, OH

Wenglikowski enters fall camp in the back-up left defensive end position and will try to wrestle his starting job back from Chris Doleman . . . was a starter at that position early last season until a sprained ankle took him out of action in September, then torn ligaments in November, and underwent ankle surgery . . . saw only non-contact action in the spring . . . in eight games accounted for 31 tackles (10 solos, 21 assists), three sacks, one fumble recovery, and one tackle for loss last season . . . said Coach Davie — "Alan is a very strong, very physical player. He's excellent against the run and overall a very good football player." . . . was red-shirted two years ago and was switched from defensive back to end . . . earned three football, three track and three wrestling letters at Franklin High/Coach Scott Miltenburger, where he was Prep All-America and North/South All-Star . . . a Criminology major at Pitt/would like to work for the FBI or coach football . . . likes to lift weights in his spare time . . . has five brothers and one sister . . . is married, his wife's name is Melissa . . . Alan L. Wenglikowski was born 8/3/60 . . . son of Victor and Doris Wenglikowski of Franklin, OH.

Keith Williams* Split End SR/5-11/170 Syracuse, NY

Williams enters fall camp as the back-up split end behind Julius Dawkins . . . saw action last season, including his first collegiate touchdown reception, a five yarder against Temple . . . said Coach Naunchik — "Keith had an outstanding spring and put himself back into the back-up position behind Julius (Dawkins). If he continues to improve, I'm sure he'll see a lot of football this fall for the Panthers." . . . was redshirted due to injuries three years ago . . . earned five letters in football and basketball at Nottingham High/Coach Jim Palla, where he was All-League and All-Upstate New York for two years and was basketball MVP, leading the team in assists . . . nicknamed "Moon" after his father . . . likes to listen to music and ride bikes in his spare time . . . an Urban Studies major at Pitt . . . Keith Williams was born 9/19/60 . . . son of Eugene and Priscilla Williams of Syracuse, NY.

Mark Wohler

Michael Woods

Clint Wilson* Tight End SO/6-3/210 Pahokee, FL

Wilson enters fall camp listed as the number-one back-up tight end behind John Brown . . . said Coach Naunchik — "Clint was a back-up last year and continued to improve this spring as he gained experience. He has good athletic ability and with more playing experience, will become a very good tight end." . . . comes from the same hometown as former Panther defensive end Rickey Jackson . . . earned three football and two basketball letters at Pahokee High/Coach Antoine Russell . . . undecided academic major . . . Clinton Antonio Wilson was born 9/20/63 . . . son of Ruth Wilson of Pahokee, FL.

Mark Wohler Linebacker JR/6-0/217 Hollidaysburg, PA

It's the classic story of the player who "walks on" and makes good . . . this season Mark Wohler, a football "walk-on" (non-scholarship player) has earned himself a spot on the depth chart and goes into fall drills as a back-up mike linebacker . . . said Coach Bailey — "Mark is a walk-on but plays like he's a scholarship player. He had an outstanding spring. He's really a hard worker and is willing to do anything you ask of him. Mark Wohler is my type of football player." . . . earned two football, two baseball and one basketball letter at Hollidaysburg Area High/Coach Harold Price . . . transferred to Pitt from Juniata College where he played football for one year . . . came to Pitt "because of its great engineering program and football tradition" . . . an Engineering major at Pitt . . . likes to dance, listen to music and hike in the woods in his spare time . . . Mark Alan Wohler was born 7/5/61 . . . son of Walter C. and Erma F. Wohler of Hollidaysburg, PA.

Michael Woods Defensive End SR/6-0/210 Natchez, MS

This is one player that everybody should keep an eye on . . . in his second season as the starting right end, Michael studied under two of the best — Hugh Green (Tampa Bay) and Rickey Jackson (New Orleans Saints) and some people say he's just as good as both of them . . . is from Green's hometown, Natchez . . . said Coach Davie — "By the time he's through, Michael's going to be one of the best players that played defense here at Pitt. He's an excellent, excellent player with the big play potential. He possesses great quickness. Lots of people call him a 'miniature Hugh Green' and after looking at the films of Green, I'd have to agree with them." . . . said Coach Fazio — "Michael should have an outstanding senior year. He has all the equipment to play as he did in '81, in the mold of Rickey Jackson of 1980." . . . recovered a blocked punt against Penn State his freshman year which set up a Pitt score, and he's been making exciting big plays ever since . . . returns as the second leading tackler from last year's squad with 96 tackles (61 solos, 35 assists), including seven tackles for loss, five fumble recoveries and an amazing 13 sacks . . . earned letters in football, basketball and track at North Natchez High/Coach Tom Williams, where he won the "Golden Helmet" award his senior season and was MVP in the River City Bowl . . . enjoys listening to music in his spare time . . . nicknamed "Dog" . . . a History major at Pitt . . . his brother played running back and linebacker at Pear River Junior College and Mississippi . . . Michael Anthony Woods was born 8/15/50 . . . son of Frank Woods and Louise Dixon of Natchez, MS.

#33 and #99 RETIRED

On November 8, 1980 at halftime of the Pitt vs. Louisville football game, the University of Pittsburgh honored senior defensive end Hugh Green by retiring his jersey, #99.

No other Pitt player will wear #99.

Green is only the second player in Pitt history to have his number retired. The first was Tony Dorsett's #33. It was retired at halftime of Dorsett's last home game, November 13, 1976, vs. West Virginia.

Hugh Green displays his jersey to the Pitt Stadium crowd during the ceremonies to retire his jersey number.

THE 1981 SEASON IN REVIEW

PITT 26, ILLINOIS 6

PITTSBURGH, PA (Sept. 5) — The Panthers opened their season in a winning tradition defeating the Fighting Illini, 26-6. Despite a shaky start, QB Dan Marino went on to complete 14 of 33 passes for 204 yards and two touchdowns earning him the third place spot on Pitt's All-Time passing list and fifth place on Pitt's All-Time offensive list. Pitt safety Tom Flynn recovered an Illini fumble on their 12 which led way for a TD by fullback Wayne DiBartola. A 43-yard Snuffy Everett field goal and a safety by defensive tackle Bill Maas put the icing on the cake and the victory in hand for the Panthers. Tailback Joe McCall rambled for 71 yards on 14 carries while the defending number one defensive unit held the Illini to a mere 48 yards in 33 rushing attempts.

PITT 38, CINCINNATI 7

PITTSBURGH, PA (Sept. 19) — Pitt quarterback Dan Marino connected on 22 of 30 passes for 270 yards and five touchdowns, while the Panther defense held the Bearcats to only 50 yards in a trouncing of Cincinnati 38-7. Julius Dawkins was awesome pulling in four TD passes setting a new Pitt record for TD grabs in a game. Flanker Barry Compton contributed six points on a reception from Marino while Snuffy Everett booted in three and freshman Caesar Aldisert scrambled for a two point conversion to finish the Panther's score-card. Marino tied the Pitt record for TD passes in one game while setting a new school record for touchdown throws with 32. The Panther defense set a new team record by holding Cincinnati to -28 yards rushing — the lowest since 1921.

PITT 42, SOUTH CAROLINA 28

COLUMBIA, SC (Oct. 3) — Facing their stiffest challenge of the season before a regional ABC-TV audience, the Panthers, led by QB Dan Marino's 346 yards and six touchdowns, defeated the Gamecocks at William Brice Stadium, 42-28. The ends had their day with John Brown grabbing three TD receptions and Julius Dawkins carrying for 47 yards down the sideline and a 30-yard strike from Marino. Barry Compton chipped in six with a pass from Marino. The Gamecocks attempted to close the gap in the second half but failed and the Panthers went home with the win — and an injured Dan Marino who suffered a sprained right shoulder late in the fourth quarter. Marino completed 24 of 39 passes moving him into the third spot on Pitt's All-Time offensive list. Pitt's tenacious defense held the Gamecocks to 183 total yards while sacking QB Gordon Beckham 11 times.

PITT 17, WEST VIRGINIA 0

MORGANTOWN, WV (Oct. 10) — The game was on the ground for the Panthers as quarterback Dan Marino watched from the sidelines with a sprained shoulder. Fullback Wayne DiBartola and tailback Bryan Thomas led Pitt to a 17-0 victory over the Mountaineers with 103 and 99 yards respectively. The Panther defense held West Virginia to a measly 92 yards through the air to record their first shutout of the year. After a scoreless first quarter, safety Tom Flynn popped loose a West Virginia ball enabling cornerback Pappy Thomas to cover the ball in the endzone. Bryan Thomas galloped 43 yards for a touchdown to end the half. Dan Daniels, filling in for Marino, was intercepted but a Mountaineer 38-yard field goal attempt fell short. Flynn picked off an Oliver Luck pass which Snuffy Everett capitalized on from 39-yards out. Linebacker Rick Kraynak intercepted Luck giving Pitt the ball and a Bryan Thomas TD. Pitt tallied 203 total yards, all on the ground, as Daniels failed to complete a pass in six tries.

PITT 42, FLORIDA STATE 14

PITTSBURGH, PA (Oct. 17) — On a beautiful football afternoon, the Panthers avenged their 1980 loss to Florida State, 42-14, and extended the nation's longest winning streak to 12. Pitt rolled up 503 yards in total offense with 251 belonging to the passing of Dan Marino, who became Pitt's all-time leading passer. Bryan Thomas rambled for 217 on the ground while the Panther defense held the Seminole rushing attack to 76 yards and intercepted QB Rick Stockstill three times. Marino hit Wayne DiBartola who crossed the endzone to put the Panthers up by seven. Linebacker Sal Sunseri returned an interception for a touchdown and Tom Flynn went all the way on an 83 yard punt return. Marino hit Dawkins twice for 64 and 18-yard touchdown passes. Thomas came alive in the fourth to give Pitt its final six.

PITTSBURGH, PA (Oct. 24) — The Orangemen gave the Panthers a run for their money, but Pitt ended up on top, 23-10. Syracuse took the lead, 10-0 threatening to end the Panthers' flawless season. Snuffy Everett put Pitt on the board with a 32-yard field goal followed by a Marino hit to John Brown to tie the game. Marino connected with Julius Dawkins to send the Panthers into the locker room ahead. Pitt insured its 13th straight victory with a Marino to Dwight Collins five-yard pass in the final minutes. Marino completed 27 of 41 attempts for 282 yards upping his total to 616, a new Pitt record for career attempts.

PITT 29, BOSTON COLLEGE 24

CHESTNUT HILL, MA (Oct. 31) — Freshman quarterback Doug Flutie gave Pitt fits completing 23 of 43 for 347 yards and two TD's, but the second ranked Panthers held off several Eagle scoring threats late in the fourth quarter to prevail 29-24. A BC field goal put the Eagles up by three but the Panthers came back with a 14-yard Marino to John Brown TD pass. Flutie connected on a 29-yard toss giving the Eagles back the lead. The seesaw affair continued as Pitt took the lead on a Marino to Dwight Collins 32-yard pass. After a Pappy Thomas interception, Bryan Thomas scampered across the goal line for six, followed by a missed PAT by Snuffy Everett. The Panthers added to their lead in the second half with a safety and a quarterback sneak by Marino from the ½ yard line. The Eagles narrowed the lead with Flutie hitting for two TD's but a failed field goal attempt by Boston College let the Panthers escape Chestnut Hill with a 29-24 victory.

PITT 47, RUTGERS 3

MEADOWLANDS, NJ (Nov. 7) — On a cold and windy day, the number one-ranked Panthers amassed 544 yards to win their eighth game of the season and their fifteenth in a row by defeating the Scarlet Knights 47-3. Rutgers lit up the score board first with a 26-yard field goal which was to be their only score of the ballgame. Pitt piled it on after that with Marino hitting DiBartola, Brown, and Compton for 5, 31, and 30 yards respectively. DiBartola, who surpassed the 100 mark for the day, squirted in from the two and Marino made good on a Bryan Thomas running streak by squeezing in from the one. The Panthers scored for the final time with freshman Marlon McIntyre taking the ball in from the eight. Marino completed 18 of 22 for 239 yards and two touchdowns while the Panther defense limited the Scarlet Knights to only 12 first downs.

PITT 48, ARMY 0

PITTSBURGH, PA (Nov. 14) — Quarterback Dan Marino became Pitt's All-Time leading passer in guiding the Panthers to seven touchdowns, while the stingy Pitt defense held the Cadets scoreless to record their second shutout of the season. The Panthers rolled up 566 yards in total offense with Marino throwing for 282 on the day. Marino hit Barry Compton for a 35-yard gain and Bryan Thomas took it in from there. Wayne DiBartola doubled the lead with a one-yard-run that capped off a 72-yard drive. Marino found Julius Dawkins from the 13 to send the Panthers on their way. Dawkins scored three more times in the third quarter on Marino passes of 14, six and ten yards. Marc Bailey ended a 47-yard drive with a one-yard jaunt into the endzone. Marino became Pitt's All-Time leading Passer, set a new school record for completions in a season, and moved into the second place on Pitt's All-Time offensive list.

PITT 35, TEMPLE 0

PHILADELPHIA, PA (Nov. 21) — Posting its third shutout of the season and its second in a row by limiting Temple to 142 total yards, Pitt clubbed the Owls 35-0. After Al Wenglikowski recovered a Temple fumble, Bryan Thomas, rushing for 97 yards on 25 attempts, scored for Pitt by plunging over from the one. Marino activated the passing game with a connection to Barry Compton following an 85-yard drive. The Panthers exploited another Temple turnover when Thomas hit pay dirt on a 19-yard dash. In the third quarter, Marino teamed with Julius Dawkins to culminate a 63-yard effort. Marino, throwing his fourth touchdown pass of the afternoon, spotted Keith Williams wide open in the endzone from the five yard stripe. Marino's 34 passing attempts set a new Pitt record for passes attempted in a season with 294.

PENN STATE 48, PITT 14

PITTSBURGH, PA (Nov. 28) — The Panthers, due to seven turnovers and thirteen penalties, were turned back soundly in front of a national ABC-TV audience by their intra-state rivals, Penn State 48-14. Pitt came out with their guns loaded with Marino hitting Dwight Collins on 28 and 9-yard strikes, heading Pitt for what seemed their 18th straight victory. The Nittany Lions came back strong picking up two touchdowns and ending the half even at 14. The second half was all Penn State. Blackledge connected with Kenny Jackson for two more TD's and Brian Franco booted in a pair of field goals. A Curt Warner fumble in the endzone was pounced on by Sean Farrell. The Lions added insult to the injury with a 91-yard interception return for a TD. The only bright spot for Pitt was Bryan Thomas, who rushed for 34 yards becoming only the third back in Pitt history to go over the 1,000-yard mark, finishing the season with 1,003.

PITT 24, GEORGIA 20

NEW ORLEANS, LA (Jan. 1) — The Panthers triumphed over the defending national champions Georgia 24-20 in one of the most exciting Sugar Bowl Classics ever. Georgia gained possession of the scoreboard with an eight-yard Herschel Walker run. Snuffy Everett put the ball through the uprights from 41-yards out to put the Panthers in the game. Pitt opened up the second half with Marino exploding on a 30-yard TD pass to Julius Dawkins. The extra point by Everett was good placing the Panthers in command. But the seesaw battle continued with the lead changing hands once again when Walker trotted in from the 10-yard mark. John Brown grabbed a Marino aerial down the stretch for a TD but the Bulldogs retaliated with Buck Belue connecting on a six-yard pass. With time running out, Marino proceeded to march the Panthers down the field towards the endzone which culminated in a dramatic 33-yard pass to Brown with :42 left on the clock. The extra point by Everett was good and the Panthers finished the 1981 season 11-1 and the number two-ranked team in the nation.

LAST YEAR's GAME: Teams last met in 1979.
Lettermen Returning: 43 Lettermen Lost: 19

Top Linemen: OG David Drechsler, OG Ron Spruill, DT William Fuller, OLB Mike Wilcher
Top Newcomers: OT Bill Lawson, LB Troy Simmons, LB Micah Moon
Game Notes: CBS has chosen this classic opening game confrontation to premier its college football telecast package, and what a sweet game it should be . . . it pits, in all likelihood, two of the nation's pre-season Top 10 ranked teams and two of the nation's most successful college squads in recent years . . . for the last two seasons Pitt and North Carolina have had a combined record of 42-5 . . . the Panthers own the finest record (33-3) over the last three years of any college team . . . the last Pitt opener to be as meaningful was in 1977 when, coming off a national championship, the Panthers opened against Notre Dame — a team which captured the national title that year . . . this is the fourth time in the last seven years that Pitt has opened its season on national or regional TV (Pitt vs. Notre Dame in 1976 & 1977, Pitt vs. Boston College in 1980) . . . the Panthers haven't played at Three Rivers Stadium since 1976 when they defeated Penn State, 24-7 . . . they are 1-1 at Three Rivers — having lost to PSU the previous year . . . the Pitt-North Carolina series stands at 2-1 with NC holding the edge . . . in their last meeting in 1979 the Tar Heels prevailed at Chapel Hill, 17-7 . . . it was Pitt's only defeat that year and could have cost them another national championship . . . North Carolina's last visit to Pittsburgh in 1978 saw Pitt pull out a 20-16 victory . . . besides being a battle between two top teams, the contest will highlight two of the top contenders for the Heisman Trophy in Dan Marino and Tar Heel tailback Kelvin Bryant — the NCAA's top returning rusher from last year (on a yards per game basis) . . . this is the second time in their last three meetings that the Pitt-North Carolina game will be regionally or nationally televised . . . the Panthers have averaged three TV appearances/year for the last six seasons . . . Pitt has won eight of its last nine opening games and has won 33 of its last 36 games . . . its last opening game loss came in 1977 at the hands of Notre Dame . . . North Carolina is coming off two consecutive Top 10 finishes — the first time that has been accomplished by an ACC team.

Top Linemen: C Tom McCormick, DT Alphonso Carreker, OT Eric Ryan
Top Newcomers: NG Gerald Nichols, WR Hassan Jones
Game Notes: In a six-game series that began in 1971, the two teams have split 3-3 . . . in their last two meetings, they have split lopsided wins with each game being no closer than two touchdowns . . . this intrasectional contest features two of the top college independents in the country and two programs that just 10 years ago could have been considered two of the lowliest in the nation . . . Pitt's last visit to Tallahasee cost them the national championship as the Panthers were upset, 36-22, their only loss of the season in 1980 . . . Pitt last defeated Florida State at Tallahassee in 1974, 9-6 . . . in his two appearances versus the Seminoles, Dan Marino threw for 286 yards in 1980 and 251 yards and three TDs last year in Pitt's 42-14 win . . . also in last year's contest Pitt halfback Bryan Thomas rambled for 217 yards — the finest performance by a Panther running back since the days of Tony Dorsett . . . this game is the second of two consecutive night games that Pitt opens with in the 1982 season . . . because of a rare Thursday evening game (TV) with North Carolina, Pitt will have a few extra days' preparation . . . the Seminoles fell to 6-5 last year after back-to-back Orange Bowl appearances . . . Coach Bobby Bowden has seven starters returning on offense and five on defense . . . Bowden has won 5C games in only six seasons at FSU and was the head coach at West Virginia the last time the Mountaineers defeated Pitt in 1975.

Game Notes: Pitt recorded its first series win last year with a 26-6 opening game triumph over Illinois, but the Illini still prevail 6-1 in a series that dates back to 1943 . . . the Panthers will be the only non-Big 10 team to visit Alumni Stadium this season . . . the Illini are one of only two conference teams that Pitt faces in 1982 . . . this is the second game in a brief home-and-home arrangement that ends this year . . . Pitt has not fared very well against Big 10 competition over the years with only a 14-49 record to show against the Conference . . . Illinois is the only Big 10 team the Panthers have faced in nine years . . . the game will feature a matchup of two of the country's top college quarterbacks in Dan Marino and Tony Eason . . . in last year's 26-6 Pitt win, Eason, in his first major college game, completed 23 of 37 passes but for a total of only 204 yards . . . he averaged over 300 yards/game during the rest of the season . . . Marino also threw for 204 yards and two TDs on a 14 for 33 day . . . the Panther defense held Illinois to six points — the least number of points the Illini scored all season . . . with coach Mike White, the Big 10's top offensive theorist noted for his sophisticated passing attack, an aerial circus can be expected . . . White has developed quarterbacks like Joe Roth and Dave Wilson . . . in his first collegiate start last year, Panther linebacker Rich Kraynak recorded a game-high 12 tackles against Illinois . . . if form holds true the game could hinge upon how well the Panther defense (that gave up an average of 13 points/game in 1981) can stop the Illinois offense (that scored about double that per game in 1981).

Game Notes: Next to Penn State, West Virginia is Pitt's oldest opponent (1895) . . . the overall series stands at 51-22-1 in the Panthers' favor with Pitt taking the last six contests . . . the last West Virginia win came in 1975 at Old Mountaineer Stadium . . . and the Mountaineers haven't won at Pitt Stadium in 10 years . .,. in fact, in their last two appearances in Pittsburgh they have been outscored by Pitt, 94-21, as the Panthers have scored 42 and 52 points . . . the closest game at Pitt Stadium in recent years came in 1976 when Pitt struggled to a 24-16 win . . . the Panthers' win last year was a turning point of their season . . . Pitt had to play without Dan Marino for the only time of the year, but backup Danny Daniels directed the Panthers to a 17-0 victory . . . it was the only shutout tossed against West Virginia as the Pitt defense held WVU to a mere 138 total yards . . . in quite an oddity — when was the last time a pass-oriented major college team won a ballgame without completing a forward pass like Pitt did last year with West Virginia? . . . Dan Marino hasn't played a full game against the Mountaineers since his freshman year when he threw for 232 yards in a Pitt win . . . he was injured midway through the first half of the game in his sophomore year and a shoulder injury kept him out of last season's contest . . . Pitt quarterback coach Joe Daniels is a former QB coach at West Virginia . . . Don Nehlen has 13 starters back from last year's Peach Bowl team . . . WVU is one of three 1981 bowl teams that the Panthers face in 1982.

Game Notes: In a series that commenced in 1938, Pitt holds a 9-1-1 edge over the Owls, the only Temple win coming in 1945 (6-0) . . . 1982's contest is the ninth consecutive meeting between the two schools and over that span of time Pitt has averaged over 37 points/game . . . on the other hand, the Panthers have had to come from behind to win in three of the last four games . . . it was after the 35-0 whitewashing of Temple last year that Pitt accepted a Sugar Bowl bid . . . in their last visit to Pitt Stadium in 1980, the Owls scored first on a two-point safety, but then the Panthers scored 36 unanswered points . . . Temple hasn't scored a TD against Pitt in its last three meetings . . . in last season's contest, Dan Marino threw for 249 yards and four touchdowns, while tight end John Brown had seven catches . . . for the second consecutive year the Owls will be facing the top two contenders for the Heisman Trophy in Pitt's Marino, and Georgia's Hershel Walker . . . Temple is one of nine independents that Pitt faces this sason . . . Head Coach Wayne Hardin has the most career wins of any football coach in Temple history . . . the Owls suffered a mightly blow in Spring practice when their best rusher, Jim Brown, went down with a knee injury serious enough to cause him to miss the 1982 season.

Game Notes: The Pitt-Syracuse series has been a continuous one since 1955 with the Panthers holding an overall 22-13-2 edge . . . Pitt has won the last nine contests between the two schools . . . the Orange's last victory came in 1972 . . . this is the Panthers' second visit to the Carrier Dome — in their first Dome appearance in 1980, they trounced Syracuse, 43-6, and gained 500 total yards . . . last season it was a different story at Pitt Stadium as Pitt struggled to a 23-10 win . . . in that game Syracuse actually led 10-0 after the first quarter . . . in two appearances against the Orange, Dan Marino threw for 282 yards and 3 TDs last year, and 170 yards and 2 TDs as a frosh in 1979 . . . also in last year's contest the Pitt secondary held the Syracuse passing attack to an abysmal 22 net yards . . . only 19 teams had won more games (496) than Syracuse in college football history going into the 1982 season — and Pitt was one of those teams (500) . . . the Orange offense will be the question mark in the 1982 season as it lost a QB who accounted for all but 18 of its total passing yards, graduated runners who accounted for all but 430 rushing yards, lost its first, second, and fourth leading receivers, as well as its top scorer, and four of five starting offensive linemen . . . but on defense, Syracuse returns 8 of 11 starters . . . Panthers Dwight Collins has caught three TD passes against the Orange in two games.

Top Backs: FB Greg Hickman, QB Dean May
Top Linemen: RT Richard Tharpe
Top Newcomers: TE Terry Strong, WR Junior Jones
Game Notes: Pitt leads this brief series between these two football independents, 2-0 . . . the prior two games have also been played at Pitt Stadium but the series is scheduled to move to Louisville in 1983 . . . in their last meeting in 1980 the Cardinals actually posted a 9-0 lead going into the secondary quarter, but Pitt rallied for a 41-23 win . . . that was the game that present starter and All-America candidate Julius Dawkins first really showcased his talents — returning seven punts for 105 yards . . . also in that game, present Louisville quarterback Dean May was 3 of 13 with three interceptions . . . coach Bob Weber returns 15 starters, seven on offense and eight on defense.

Top Newcomers: OG John Askin, LB Tony Furjanic, LB Rich DiBernardo, K Hal Von Wyl
Game Notes: After an absence of three years the Fighting Irish are back on the Panther schedule . . . Notre Dame leads the series dating back to 1909, 30-13-1, and has won the last two encounters . . . in their last game in 1978 at South Bend, quarterback Joe Montana rallied the Fighting Irish for a come-from-behind 26-17 win on regional ABC-TV . . . to show the importance of the games between these two top independent football powers — the last three meetings have been telecast on regional or national TV . . . between the two schools, 25 National Championships have been won with the Irish first in that category among colleges and the Panthers being sixth . . . Notre Dame's last Pitt Stadium appearance was certainly a memorable one when in 1977 the two teams opened the season against each other . . . in that game Panther QB Matt Cavanaugh broke his wrist in the first quarter and the Irish finally pulled out a 19-9 victory — but not before a sterling defensive stand by Pitt that then Notre Dame coach Dan Devine described as "one of the best I've ever seen." . . . Notre Dame proceeded to win the national title that year . . . and that was the year after Pitt thrashed the Irish, 31-1, on their way to the national crown . . . Gerry Faust returns a whopping 19 starters from last year's 5-6 squad . . . this season the Irish play five of the top 15 teams from last season . . . they also must meet Pitt and Penn State back-to-back . . . Notre Dame quarterback hopeful Ken Karcher is from nearby Bethel Park, PA.

Game Notes: Last year's 48-0 whitewashing of the Cadets was Pitt's most lopsided win of the year . . . the Panthers have won eight straight games and lead the overall series that started in 1931, 17-6-2 . . . the series has been a continuous one since 1975 . . . Army's last win came at Michie Stadium in 1971 . . . in Pitt's last visit to West Point, it trounced Army, 45-7, setting a school record of 436 yards passing in the process . . . in their last three meetings, the Panther offense has averaged over 500 yards in total offense per game . . . last year's 566 yards was a seasonal high . . . in the last seven meetings Pitt has averaged over 45 points/game and the Cadets have scored only one touchdown in the last three years . . . in three appearances versus Army, Dan Marino has thrown for 272 yards, 282 yards, and 292 yards . . . in 1981 Marino completed 19 passes for 282 yards and four TDs . . . Julius Dawkins was on the receiving end of all four of those TD tosses . . . Pitt is Army's last game before Navy . . . the Cadets haven't had a winning season since 1977 . . . 13 starters return for coach Ed Cavanaugh including Gerald Walker, one of the better backs in the East . . . after having been the only back to gain 100 yards on the Panther defense in 1980, Walker was held to 19 yards last season . . . starting linebacker Dan Kessler hails from nearby Greensburg, PA.

Game Notes: These two powerful football independents are not only the top two football powers in the East, but two of the top college football powers in all the nation . . . Penn State is Pitt's oldest rival (1893) and the Nittany Lions lead the overall series 40-38-3 — one that has been continuous since 1935 . . . in recent years the home field advantage has been more myth than reality . . . last year PSU defeated Pitt at Pitt Stadium, but the previous two seasons the Panthers whipped Penn State at State College . . . four of the last five meetings between these rivals have been played at Beaver Stadium . . . it's highly probable that the game will again be the focus of a national TV audience — marking the ninth consecutive year it has been telecast . . . in last year's strange contest, Pitt won the first quarter 14-0, but Penn State stormed back to score the next 48 points . . . Dan Marino has seen extensive action versus the Nittany Lions last year (when he threw for 267 yards and two TDs) and in his freshman year (1979) when he connected for 279 yards . . . for 23 of the last 24 years, Pitt has ended the regular season with this rival game . . . Foge Fazio and Joe Paterno have an interesting past relationship — Paterno, as a young assistant, having recruited Fazio for Penn State when Foge was finishing high school . . . but Fazio decided to attend Pitt . . . Paterno returns six starters on offense and five on defense from last year's Fiesta Bowl squad . . . both Pitt and Penn State have been to bowls now for seven consecutive years.

A TRADITION IN TRAVEL

The University of Pittsburgh Football Team was a pioneer in air travel for college athletic teams. The 1939 Panther football squad was the first team ever to travel across country by air, when the squad travelled to the University of Washington.

The total party of 41 used two DC-3's. Departure was Wednesday morning with stops in Chicago, Madison, and an overnight stay in Minneapolis. Thursday had stops in Fargo, Billings, and an overnight stay at Missoula, Montana. Friday had a stop in Spokane and a 6:30 PM arrival at Seattle.

The team won the game but could not begin the return trip until Monday because of poor weather, since TWA had not flown over the Rockies and they flew visually. The return route was San Francisco, Los Angeles, Albuquerque, Amarillo, Kansas City, Columbus, and Pittsburgh, finally, at 3:00 AM Tuesday.

Pittsburgh Press sports writer Chester Smith, who covered the game, returned home by train and beat the team back to Pittsburgh.

The Panthers were also the first team to travel by Jet, booking space in the rear of a plane to Los Angeles in 1959 for a game against USC.

Luckily, for the Panthers, air travel has improved vastly since that original trip in 1939.

A PITT TRADITION — The University of Pittsburgh Marching Band and (inset) back-to-back "Miss Cheerleader USA" winners Joyce Prokopovich (1978) and Susan Murphy (1977).

Ninety-Two Years of Panthers

Pitt football got off to a humble beginning back in 1890. Only three games were played that year and the record read a modest 1-2.

In 1904 the Panthers, led by Joe Thompson of World War I fame, registered an undefeated 10-0 record, the School's first spotless mark. Thompson took over as coach after graduation and in 1910 the team produced an undefeated (9-0), untied, and unscored upon season. Under Joe Duff, brother of the former U.S. Senator, the Panthers lost only once in 1914 and set the stage for the legendary Glenn Scobey 'Pop' Warner in 1915.

Under Warner, the Panthers were 59-11-4 from 1915 to 1923. During this time the Panthers put together some formidable winning streaks. Warner's teams won their first 31 consecutive games, until W & J beat Pitt 13-10 in 1919. Counting the last two wins in 1914, the Panthers undefeated streak lasted 33 games.

In 1910, the Pitt team came up with an innovation for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers were the first team to wear uniform numbers.

During Warner's tenure, Pitt's first All-America appeared. Bob Peck reached that status in 1914 and again in 1915 and 1916 to become a three-time All-America. Peck was rated one of the great all-time performers at center. Halfback Tom Davies and tackle Leonard Hilty (both 1918) were two other stars of that era.

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard/end and 1917 team captain, Jock Sutherland; Dr. H. C. Carlson, who went on to coach basketball at Pitt for 31 years; and Tiny Thornhill, who went to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Following Warner, Sutherland began a 15-year regime in 1924. It began slowly, but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Sutherland recorded an incredible 111-20-12 record, including National Championships in 1929, 1931, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Coupled with Warner's three National Championships (1915, 1916, and 1918), the Panthers had won eight National Titles in 47 years. Pitt didn't add another title until 1976, to give the school a total of nine and place them 5th among all schools in NCAA history. These feats deeply entrench the Panthers as a truly great all-time college power. Sutherland's tenure also included four Rose Bowl trips, winning the 1937 game over Washington.

As should be expected with this kind of winning football, many performers won individual All-America acclamation: Ralph Chase, tackle, 1925; Gibby Welch, halfback, 1927; Mike Betto, tackle, 1928; Ray Montgomery, guard and Joe Donchess, end, 1929; Jess Quatse, tackle, 1931; Warren Heller, halfback, 1932; Joe Skladany, end, 1933; Doc Hartwig, guard, and George Shotwell, center, 1934; Averell Daniell, tackle, 1935; Marshall Goldberg, halfback, and Tony Matisi, tackle, 1937; and Goldberg and Bill Daddio, end, in 1938 all received All-America recognition during this period.

Sutherland left in 1938 and with his departure the Pitt program didn't have another winning season for a decade. Of course, during that time World War II took a bit out of everyone's program. After the War, however, it didn't take the Panthers long to get back in the winning swing of things. Mike Milligan turned in a winning record, the first in ten years, in 1948 and again in 1949. Milligan resigned in 1950 and he was replaced by Len Casanova who also departed the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over. Ill health caused Dawson to step down in 1954 when Tom Hamilton took over once again for the remainder of the season. Hamilton handed the job to John Micheloson in 1955. Hamilton and Micheloson steered the team toward a winning direction. The 1955 season brought a 7-3 record and Sugar Bowl invitation (the Panthers dropped a close 7-0 game to Georgia Tech). The Gator Bowl followed in 1956 after a 7-2-1 season, but the Panthers hovered around the .500 mark until 1962.

During this stretch in history, numerous other Pitt Panthers attained All-America status. Ralph Fife, 1941; Bernie Barkouski, 1949; Joe Schmidt, 1952, all were touted as guards. Eldred Kraemer, tackle, 1952; Joe Walton, end, 1956; John Guzik, guard, 1958; and Mike Ditka at end in 1960 were also All-Americas.

Then came 1963. The Panthers finished with a 9-1 record and were ranked third in the country. Paul Martha and Ernie Borghetti won first team All-America rating during this memorable year.

After losing seasons in 1964 and 1965, Michelosen was replaced by Dave Hart in 1966. Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campaign and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads didn't perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a close look at its football program and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in ten years (6-4-1) and its first Bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. Majors improved that mark to 7-4 and a second place ranking in the East in his second year. Gary Burley, middle guard, won first-team All-America touting. In 1975 Pitt finished 8-4, went to the Sun Bowl, and was nationally ranked 13th by UPI.

This three-year growth served to set the stage for the 1976 season. The Panthers completed perhaps one of the most dramatic turnarounds in college football history in 1976—from 1-10 in 1972 to 12-0 and a National Championship in 1976. Tony Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy and first team All-America selection for the third year. Middle guard Al Romano won honors for the first time. Other Panthers (Jim Corbett, tight end; Tom Brzoza, guard, Jimbo Cramer, linebacker; Bob Jury; safety; and Carson Long, kicker) made second and third team All-America in 1976. Majors was named Coach-of-the-Year for the second time (1973) and the Panthers received just about every trophy available designating Eastern and National supremacy. Not since 1937 had the Panthers been able to call themselves Unanimous National Champion.

After Pitt's 27-3 win in the Sugar Bowl, Jackie Sherrill replaced Majors as coach. Majors opted to return to his alma mater, Tennessee. Sherrill, who was a Majors' assistant at Pitt for three years and was instrumental as an architect in the Pitt rebuilding job, left after the 1975 season to coach Washington State for a year (3-8) and readily returned to Pitt when the offer was made. He found himself in the strange role of inheriting a team coming off the National Championship.

But, in a pressure-packed atmosphere, Sherrill came through. He sustained the lofty heights that the Pitt program had reached. The Panthers were ranked 7th and 8th on the polls, registered a 9-2-1 record, and beat Clemson 34-3 to cop the Gator Bowl Championship. The Panthers had four first-team All-Americas (Randy Holloway, Matt Cavanaugh, Bob Jury and Tom Brzoza), which was the most by any team in the country.

In addition, eight Pitt gridders were chosen in the NFL draft—tied with Notre Dame for the highest number of any college team.

With such heavy losses by graduation, Sherrill had a rebuilding job to do. And it was a young team in 1978 that registered an 8-4 record and accepted a Tangerine Bowl bid (Losing to North Carolina State 30-17). The bowl trip was the fourth consecutive by a Pitt team and the fifth in six years. Hugh Green and Gordon Jones were selected first team All-America.

In 1979, Sherrill's Panthers came through again, posting an 11-1 record and a Gator Bowl win. The team was ranked sixth in the country and helped Coach Jackie Sherrill win "Eastern Coach-of-the-Year" honors and boost his three-year record to 28-7-1, making him the winningest three-year coach in Pitt history.

The 1980 Panthers, led by Maxwell Trophy and Lombardi Trophy winner Hugh Green, stormed up another 11-1 season, followed by a 37-9 trouncing of South Carolina in the Gator Bowl. Offensive tackle Mark May won the coveted Outland Trophy, and by season's end, both wire services had Pitt ranked second in the nation, while the New York Times selected Pitt as the best college football team in the country. Four Panthers earned All-America honors (Hugh Green, Mark May, Benjie Pryor and Ricky Jackson).

To cap off the 1980 season, Coach Jackie Sherrill won the "Eastern Coach-of-the-Year" award for the second consecutive season, upped his four-year record to an incredible 39-8-1, and had 12 players drafted by the pro's (six others signed as free agents) more than any other team in the nation.

In 1981, Sherrill's Panthers compiled a third-straight 11-1 season and an impressive 24-20 win over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl, the win coming on a thriller-last minute pass from quarterback Dan Marino to tight end John Brown. The Panthers were ranked #2 in the Nation by the Associated Press and #4 by UPI.

(The All-Time Team was originally picked in 1958. In 1968 it was updated by a special panel headed by then Sports Editor of the Pittsburgh Press, Chet Smith. In the summer of 1979, the team was updated again by a special panel of Pittsburgh sportswriters, broadcasters and knowledgeable Pitt football followers. Naturally there will be arguments but that's expected. The last year the player performed is in parentheses.)

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917 and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953, being among the first coaches named.

In 1954 Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-American (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-American halfback in 1937 and an All-American fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933, were elected.

In 1979, Joe Donchess, All-America end in 1929, was elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland, he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917—teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, 1936 and 1937; Eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period.

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest day until recent history. He died unexpectedly in the Spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his unexpected death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history until Tony Dorsett came along.

These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is owner of Marshall Goldberg Machine Tools, Ltd., of Rosemont, IL.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917 and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his intercollegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns. He was elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

McLaren resided in the Baltimore area before his death in 1965.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother, Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the last Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks third in the all-time total years gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom spent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died in 1976.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-America team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

He became an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Wagner died in 1979.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Joe Donchess

Last fall, Dr. Joseph C. Donchess became the 11th former Pitt football player to be inducted (posthumously) into the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

A standout end for Coach Jock Sutherland from 1927-29, Joe was an integral cog on a team that went 23-4-2 during his career. In 1929, when the Panthers went 9-1 and won the the National Championship, Donchess was voted first-team All-America. Giving additional credence to his prowess, Joe is a member of Pitt's All-Time Team (1910-1978).

After his undergraduate days at Pitt, Joe attended the Pitt School of Medicine and became a doctor in 1932. While attending medical school, he also coached the Pitt football team from 1930-32. He coached the ends for Dartmouth from 1933-37 while doing graduate work in their school of medicine. After Dartmouth, he began a successful career as an orthopaedic surgeon.

A pillar of the community, Donchess belonged to numerous professional organizations, including the American College of Surgeons. He was a member of the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce and was the Chief Surgeon for United States Steel at Gary, Indiana.

He was a member of Phi Delta Theta, Nu Sigma Nu, and the Druids at Pitt, and his name is on the OKD walk. Donchess was a big contributor to the University for over 30 years and from 1960-62 was the Chairman of the Pitt Annual Giving Fund.

During his career, he wrote numerous articles for medical publications.

In recognition of his very special contributions, the Pitt football training room — inside Gate 3 at Pitt Stadium — was dedicated in his memory.

He died in 1978.

Ave Daniell

Averell Daniell, a member of the football team from 1934-36, captained the 1936 Pitt Rose Bowl championship team and was a consensus All-America standout on the line that was regarded as the best forward wall in Pitt history.

He then went on to play professionally with the Green Bay Packers. Following that he was a line coach at Dartmouth and at West Point before entering the Navy in WWII.

Following the War, he entered business and worked his way up to Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Alloy Manufacturing Company, a supplier to the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. That company later merged with Ionics, Inc., and Daniell now serves as its President.

A graduate of Mt. Lebanon High School, Ave majored in business administration at Pitt. He has been very active in the recent resurgence of Pitt athletics, and served as President of the Pitt Golden Panthers in 1974.

Joe Skladany

Joe Skladany was credited with helping Jock Sutherland build a great winning tradition at Pitt and earned first team All-America honors in 1933 and 1934. He played both offensive and defensive end.

At 205 pounds, Skladany played the strong side on the Panthers' unbalanced offensive line and anchored the defensive line from his defensive end position. With Joe leading the way, the 1933 defense allowed a mere two touchdowns en route to an 8-1 record. During his stay at Pitt, the Panthers posted a 24-3-2 record.

Skladany was elected to the Pioneer Division of the Hall of Fame, the section reserved for athletes who starred before 1934.

Following his college career, Skladany went on to become principal owner of the Pittsburgh Paperback Corporation. Prior to his death, Joe was quite active in Pittsburgh's community affairs.

PANTHERS IN THE PROS

During the 1981 season, 28 former Pitt players were on NFL football teams. This number was inflated to its present status due mainly to the senior class of 1980, which placed twelve draft picks and seven free agents in professional camps. Of that number, eleven of the draft picks and two of the free agents made their way onto NFL club rosters.

Of all of the teams, Tampa Bay has the most former Pitt players, with five Panthers in the 1981 roster. The Washington Redskins have three former Pitt players, all offensive linemen. Several other teams have two former Pitt players on their rosters.

These Panthers Rambled

Here are the top Pitt ground gainers and scorers since 1914. They traveled far in picking-up yards from scrimmage, passing, kick returns, and interceptions, and they put a lot of markers on the Pitt side of the scoreboard.

Pitt Ranks 6th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below, the University of Pittsburgh is 6th to properly rank as one of the nation's all-time great football names.

Glenn "Pop" Warner
(1915-23)

Glenn Scobey "Pop" Warner is considered by many as one of the legendary fathers of the early football era. While at Pitt from 1915-23, "Pop" Warner compiled an impressive 59-11-4 overall record. In 1917 the Panthers went undefeated and untied.

Jock Sutherland
(1924-38)

Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland played under Pop Warner on one of the greatest teams in Pitt football history. Sutherland became the winningest head coach in Pitt history with 111 victories in all. His teams won the National Championship in 1927, 29, 36 and 37 and Eastern titles in 1925, 27, 29, 31, 32, 34, 36 and 37. His overall coaching record was an amazing 111-20-12.

Charles W. Bowser
(1939-42)

Charles W. Bowser was a product of Jock Sutherland. A discontinuation of scholarships during World War II had bearing on Bowser's squads from 1939-42. Team captains were not even selected during those War years. Bowser compiled an overall 14-20-1 record.

Walter Milligan
(1947-49)

Walter S. Milligan turned around a poor seasonal record in 1947 of 1-8, to revitalize the Panthers with 6-3 record in '48 and '49. The Ohio State game of 1949 is one of the most memorable in Panther history when Pitt fumbled a kick return late in the game allowing the Buckeyes to take a 14-10 edge. Milligan finished his tenure was 13-14 overall record.

Tom Hamilton
(1951-1954)

Tom Hamilton acquired the nickname "Captain" from his days as Captain in the Navy. Hamilton served as both head football coach and athletic director at Pitt for a number of years of both combined and separate duties. He filled in for Red Dawson during mid-season when Dawson became ill in 1954. His record overall was 3-7; the season of Dawson's illness was 4-5.

John Michelosen
(1955-65)

John P. Michelosen served as Red Dawson's assistant coach in 1954 before being named to the head coaching spot in 1955. His team's 9-1 record in 1964 earned Pitt a Number Three national ranking. His overall composite record was 56-49-7.

Red Dawson
(1952-54)

Lowell P. "Red" Dawson coached the Buffalo Bills of the AFL and served as an assistant at Michigan State before coming to Pitt. As head coach of the Panthers, Dawson excelled in football recruiting. Captain Hamilton had to fill in for Red in 1954 when he became ill. His overall record was 9-12-6.

Dave Hart
(1966-1968)

Hart's overall record (3-27) certainly did not reflect the positive contributions he made to the Pitt athletic scene. An excellent recruiter and administrator, most of Hart's assistant coaches have gone on to successful coaching careers, and Hart, himself, has become an outstanding collegiate administrator.

Carl DePasqua
(1969-72)

Carl A. DePasqua led the Panther squad from 1969-72. During that period, Pitt pulled out of the Big Four Agreement that had limited the Panthers, WVU, Penn State and Syracuse to 100 men on each team. DePasqua was also an outstanding fullback at Pitt and played in the Blue-Gray game in 1949. His overall coaching record was 13-29.

John Majors
(1973-76)

Majors is commonly known as the architect of the modern Pitt football renaissance. Under Majors, the Panthers played in the Fiesta Bowl (1973), the Sun Bowl (1975) and won the National Championship in the Sugar Bowl against Georgia in 1976. Pitt's only Heisman Trophy winner, Tony Dorsett, played under Majors. Majors left Pitt with an overall record of 33-13-1.

Jackie Sherrill
(1977-1981)

Jackie Sherrill quickly became one of the winningest coaches in Pitt football history. He took his Panthers to five straight bowl games including the Gator in 1977, the Tangerine in 1978, the Fiesta in 1979, the Gator in 1980 and the Sugar Bowl (and #2 ranking) in 1981. His overall record at Pitt was an outstanding 50-9-2.

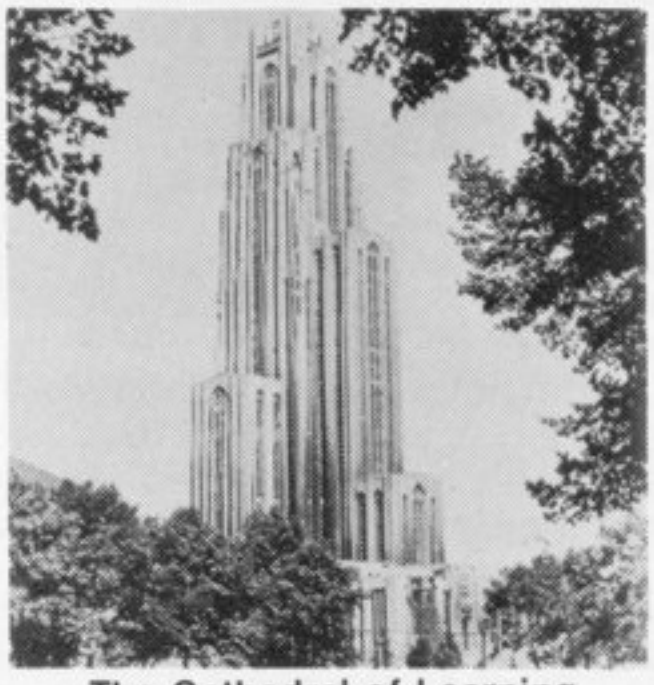
THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH



The Cathedral of Learning

After almost two centuries of development, the University of Pittsburgh has become a major institution of higher education serving the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the nation.

Private, state-related, and nonsectarian, Pitt today is a complex of 16 schools, 97 departments, 23 special centers, and four regional campuses serving outlying regions of Pennsylvania at Greensburg, Johnstown, Bradford, and Titusville. The Pittsburgh campus consists of 52 buildings on 125 acres of land, dominated by the Cathedral of Learning, a historic landmark and, at 42 stories, the tallest school building in the country.

Under the leadership of Wesley Wentz Posvar, who became the University's 15th chancellor in 1967, Pitt has experienced a period of extraordinary growth. Enrollment has more than doubled to its present 35,000 students. Full- and part-time faculty numbering 2,800 teach 750,000 credit-hours each year.

Through teaching and research the University meets a local, national, and international public-service mission. Units like the University Center for Social and Urban Research, Philosophy of Science Center, Center for Environmental Epidemiology, Long-Term Care Gerontology Center, Race Desegregation Assistance Center, Bureau of Business Research, NASA Industrial Applications Center, and the University Center for International Studies provide expertise to government agencies, citizens' groups, and others concerned with solving societal problems.

Increased enrollment in the 1970s was accompanied by an expansion of University facilities, including construction of new homes for the Schools of Law, Engineering, and Nursing; the award-winning Chemistry Building; the Learning Research and Development Center; and Forbes Quadrangle, which houses the School of Education, the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, and the social sciences. At the heart of scholarly activities at Pitt is Hillman Library. Completed in 1968, it is the center of a library system housing more than 3,700,000 volumes.

In 1982, the University awarded 6,000 undergraduate and graduate degrees. Pitt has more than 117,000 graduates scattered throughout the 50 states and in 97 countries.

The University has continued to increase in national and international stature, annually attracting more than $50-million in sponsored research and programs. In 1974 Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities.

Pitt has been the site of many scientific achievements. Jonas Salk in 1953 developed and tested the Salk polio vaccine; Klaus Hofmann in 1961 synthesized the hormone ACTH; Panayotis Katsoyannis in 1964 developed synthetic insulin. In 1975 Pitt anthropologist James Adovasio began an archaeological dig just south of Pittsburgh, which is the oldest verified site of continuous human occupation in the Western Hemisphere. William Cassidy, who in 1977 discovered the largest meteorite ever found in Antarctica, was the first scientist to predict the location of meteors. Charles Brinton's research team in 1977 developed vaccines against three major bacterial diseases: gonorrhea, diarrhea, and Pseudomonas aeruginosa infection.

Following are some of the other highlights in the history of the University's development.

1787 — Four years after the end of the American War of Independence, a Commonwealth charter established the Pittsburgh Academy, first school of higher learning west of the Allegheny Mountains, and the forerunner of the University of Pittsburgh. Classes were held in a log cabin until a Commonwealth appropriation of $5,000 enabled construction of a brick building in what is now downtown Pittsburgh.

1819 — A new charter changed the name to the Western University of Pittsburgh.

1892 — W.U.P. completed affiliation with Western Pennsylvania Medical college, forerunner of Pitt's School of Medicine.

1908 — W.U.P. moved to its present site in Oakland and changed its name to the University of Pittsburgh.

1926 — Ground was broken for the Cathedral of Learning, the culmination of the vision and leadership of Chancellor John G. Bowman.

1966 — Pitt entered into a new private-public partnership of state-relatedness, becoming a part of the Commonwealth System of Higher Education. The new financial arrangement helped the University to maintain and expand high-quality education and at the same time provide higher-educational opportunities for more students in the state through lowered tuition rates.

Special mention should be made of the University of Pittsburgh's six Schools of the Health Sciences — Medicine, Dental Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health, and Health Related Professions — and the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic. They are part of a corporation, the University Health Center of Pittsburgh, which was formed in 1965. Its other members include five major hospitals adjacent to the University: Presbyterian-University and Montefiore, both adult medical-surgical hospitals; Children's; Magee-Womens; and Eye and Ear. Together they form one of the outstanding centers in the country for high-quality patient care through health education, research, and services. Affiliate members are the Central Blood Bank of Pittsburgh, the Pittsburgh Child Guidance Center, and the Veterans Administration Medical Center. The Health Center also supports ambulatory care programs at Falk Clinic and Matilda H. Theiss Health Center.

The "Golden Triangle" of Pittsburgh where the three rivers — Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio — meet.

Dr. Wesley W. Posvar, Chancellor

When Dr. Posvar was named Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1967, the University already boasted a treasured academic and athletic tradition.

In his fifteen years as Chancellor, Dr. Posvar has further enhanced the University's national and international reputation—both academically and athletically.

In the same symbolic manner in which the Cathedral of Learning stands tall against the graceful Oakland skyline, Pitt excels as an athletic power. In 1976, the Pitt football team won the National Championship becoming the sixth all-time leader in National Collegiate Football Championships. Attesting to its academic excellence the University is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities. Both of these achievements underscore the University's continuing quest for excellence in both academics and athletics.

A former college athlete who believes a strong athletic program should complement a high quality academic experience, Dr. Posvar has earned the reputation as "Pitt's #1 Sports Fan."

Born in Topeka, Kansas, Dr. Posvar is an engineering graduate of the United States Military Academy in West Point, graduating first in his class. A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, he earned Masters Degrees in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. At Harvard, he received an M.A. in Public Administration, and a Ph.D. in Political Science. He was named one of the Ten Most Outstanding Young Men by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Posvar served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon, and was head of the 120-man social sciences division at the United States Air Force Academy before his appointment as Chancellor.

Dr. Posvar has also accumulated several athletic awards, among them "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen Association, and was the recipient of the Contribution to Amateur Athletics Award by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

His wife sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Leider singer. An active civic leader, she is the founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Chamber Opera Theater—the touring and educational adjunct of the Pittsburgh Opera.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Jr., Marina and Lisa.

Dr. Edward Bozik, Director of Athletics

Dr. Ed Bozik, a man with broad management and administrative experience in both athletics and academics, was named the new Athletic Director at the University of Pittsburgh in June. His appointment was effective September 1.

Bozik, who is 53, succeeded Cas Myslinski who announced his retirement this past April after 13½ years on the job.

Bozik had been head of the Chancellor's personal staff since 1975, and most recently served as Assistant Chancellor. In addition to his primary responsibilities of academic and administrative management, Bozik maintained staff oversight of the Athletic Department for the Chancellor. Additionally, from 1975-79 the Athletic Director reported directly to Bozik on a day-to-day basis.

In these various roles, Bozik had become actively involved on the national level in the intercollegiate athletic scene as a representative of the Chancellor. It is a role that he obviously intends to enlarge upon and assume a leadership position for Pitt.

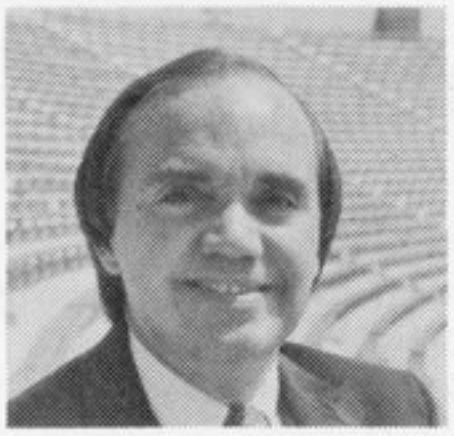
"I am excited about the challenge of directing an intercollegiate athletic program of a major university," Bozik said in accepting the position. "I believe intercollegiate athletics are facing a grave national challenge, but I am fully persuaded that athletic excellence is fully consistent with academic excellence. Pitt has a tradition of being a winner, both academically and athletically, and I am fully committed to maintaining and perhaps even improving this winning tradition."

A native of nearby Donora, PA (where his mother Ann still resides), Bozik is a 1946 graduate of Donora High School. He received his B.S. from California State in 1953 and later earned his Ph.D. in Political Science from Georgetown University in 1968.

Following his graduation from California State, Bozik served in the United States Air Force from 1953-66, principally as an Operational Aircrew member and as a Comptroller and Management Analysis Officer. In July of 1966 he joined the United States Air Force Academy as an instructor and in 1971 served as chairman of the Department of Political Science.

From there Bozik moved to the National War College in Washington, D.C., where he served as head of the faculty from 1973-74. He then was assigned duties as an Air Force planner and was heavily involved in strategic arms limitation discussions which led to SALT agreements.

In August, 1975, Bozik accepted Chancellor Posvar's offer to join him at the University of Pittsburgh. Married to JoAn, the Boziks are the parents of one daughter and two sons. Daughter Margaret is presently attending Pitt Law School, while Michael is also attending Pitt in preparation for Medical School. Tim is currently a senior at Notre Dame. The Boziks reside in the Fox Chapel section of Pittsburgh.



Associate Athletic Director Dean Billick

The first announcement made by Ed Bozik after being named Pitt Athletic Director this past Summer was to appoint Dean Billick as Associate Athletic Director. In this capacity Billick will serve as Bozik's right-hand man and will be responsible for the Department in Bozik's absence.

The appointment marks Billick's second promotion in the Department in the last 1½ years. A year ago last May he was named Associate Athletic Director for Public Affairs where he was responsible for supervising and coordinating the areas of sports information, promotions/marketing, Pitt Golden Panthers, band and cheerleaders.

A native of Grove City, Pa., Billick will be beginning his 17th year on the Pitt athletic staff this Fall. He originally joined Pitt as Sports Information Director in the Summer of 1966 and served in that capacity until being named Associate Athletic Director in 1981. During his tenure as Sports Information Director his athletic publications won numerous national awards and he directed successful campaigns for a Heisman Trophy winner, a Heisman Trophy runner-up, an Outland Trophy winner, a Lombardi Award winner, a Maxwell Award winner and 18 first-team All-Americans in football. He was also associated with eight bowl teams in football, four post-season teams in basketball and a football National Championship.

Prior to joining the Pitt staff, he worked as a reporter for the Sharon (Pa.) Herald and as News Editor for the Centre Daily Times (State College, Pa.). He served one year as Sports Information Director at Bucknell University in 1965 before joining the Pitt staff in 1966.

Billick is a 1959 graduate of Grove City High School and a 1963 graduate of Penn State where he earned a B.S. Degree in journalism and was Sports Editor of the Daily Collegian. Married to the former Pamela Leydig of Lower Burrell, Pa., he and his wife reside in Indiana Township. Billick is 40.

The Pitt Golden Panthers are the outside financial supporters of Pitt's Athletic Programs. The primary objective of the Pitt Golden Panthers is to help Pitt sustain prominence in athletics. During the short span of ten years, the Golden Panther Organization has grown from a handful of members to over 5,000 to date. The Pitt Golden Panthers have contributed over $3.5 million to the program during this time.

In addition to raising funds for Athletics, the Pitt Golden Panthers also promote Pitt throughout the area, creating chapters within Pennsylvania — currently 14 chapters — help with recruiting, season ticket sales, and in general, promote the University of Pittsburgh.

All contributors to the Golden Panthers receive donor credit in the University's annual Giving Fund and its various giving clubs.

Pitt Stadium-Home of the Panthers

Not until 1925 did Pitt football teams have a home to call their own.

Prior to that, Pitt teams played football at Forbes Field, old home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, from 1909-1924. The newly-completed Forbes Quadrangle (which houses several departments and classrooms), bordered by Roberto Clemente Drive, now stands on the old Forbes Field site.

From 1890 to 1908, the Pirates played at various ballparks, but mostly old Exposition Park on the North Side, in the general vicinity of Three Rivers Stadium.

In 1925 Pitt Stadium was dedicated and the football teams have called it home ever since. With a present seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator-viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval-shaped structure is a good one for football.

The structure has basically remained the same over the years, but many adjustments have been made that make Pitt Stadium one of the truly complete college sports complexes around.

The interior of the 54-year-old bowl is painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green Astro-Turf playing surface and the gold colored 440-yard all-weather Tartan track. The Stadium sports a new Astro-Turf surface, installed in the summer of 1977. The original Astro-Turf surface was put in in 1969.

The Stadium became a more efficient and more attractive edifice in 1978. First, a new coaching office complex was opened. The two-floor office, reception, conference room and workout area now houses the entire football staff.

In addition, a brand new, spacious and more efficient Ticket Office Headquarters was opened at Gate 1 last year. More offices are planned for the Stadium in the future.

Vast improvement on the seating was also completed last summer with a comprehensive two-year program to completely refurbish the seating. Adding greatly to the comfort of the fan, the old seats were removed, the concrete base was touched up and sealed and new aluminum seats were installed. Half of the Stadium was completed after the 1977 season and the other half was done in 1979.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the Stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats were removed to provide better access. The present capacity is 56,500. The Stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. The Stadium also houses the band, the track team and a general reception area.

The first game at the Stadium was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games there.

The single game attendance record was set in 1938, when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the Stadium to see Pitt beat Fordham 24-13. The interest was at a peak for that game since the two teams had played to consecutive scoreless ties the three previous years.

In 1977, 287,867 fans saw the Panthers play in six games. That total is the highest for a single season. The average per game attendance record was set in 1978, however, in five home encounters when an average of 49,472 fans attended.

This is what Pitt Stadium looked like when Pitt defeated Fordham in front of the largest crowd ever at Pitt Stadium (68,918) in 1938. The Panthers featured the "Dream Backfield" and Fordham had a player named Vince Lombardi.

Pitt Scoreboard Keeps You Entertained and Informed

Since 1978, Pitt fans have been entertained and informed by a modern animated scoreboard in the south endzone of the stadium.

The two men who design and then program the unique displays that appear during the games are Ron Morris and Rick Roth, of Information and Systems Research, Inc. (ISR), a Coraopolis-based company which is recognized as one of the country's foremost manufacturers of program generators ("programs that write programs," says Roth) and other software development tools.

ISR also markets, through its subsidiary company ISR Municipal Systems, a mini-computer based financial control and management system for local governments, locally listing the Townships of Upper St. Clair and O'Hara and the Boro of West View among its many clients.

Roth earned an undergraduate degree (1974) and Morris a graduate degree (1975) from Pitt.

The actual computer used to operate the scoreboard is a 32KW (memory size) PDP 11/03 central processing unit (CPU), which is manufactured by the Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) of Maynard, MA.

The scoreboard itself consists of a row by 120 column matrix of light bulbs. It principally runs on the same basis as your home television. The on/off pattern of lights is controlled by the software programs written by Morris and Roth, who are located in the pressbox computer room.

Most programs are created prior to gametime, but occasionally, they are written and tested during the game, prior to display on the board itself.

Morris and Roth are always working on new ideas and animations for the Panther games and spend generally 6-10 hours of preparation time for each game.

The Pitt scoreboard is sponsored by Equibank and Westinghouse.

Roger Huston

STADIUM ANNOUNCER ROGER HUSTON

Roger Huston has been calling the action for the fans in the Pitt stands since the 1976 National Championship season, but is best known as the track announcer at The Meadows Race Track.

Huston came to Pennsylvania from Pompano Beach, Florida in 1976 to work as the Meadows announcer. He has called harness racing's most prestigious events such as the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio and the Hambeltonian Trotting Classic for NBC television.

Huston has handled play-by-play for football, basketball and baseball. A graduate of Wilmington College, Huston has always worked in the announcing field. He is a native of Xenia, Ohio.

THE 1982 PITT CHEERLEADERS

The 1982 Pitt Cheerleaders, with 11 returning veterans, should be a high point of excitement and enthusiasm during the up-coming football season. As in the past, they will delight and amaze the fans with gymnastic feats of skill on the mini-trampoline and with partners.

Last year's addition of a microphone man will continue, with great emphasis on total fan involvement. The cheerleaders' aim this year is to bring the fans into the game as participants, not just spectators.

In addition to their regular home game appearances, the Pitt Cheerleaders will travel to Illinois, Army, Syracuse and Penn State this season.

Each year the Pitt Cheerleaders travel extensively to support Pitt football by exciting and entertaining the crowd.

P-Panther C-Captains

Things have changed a great deal since the "SIS BOOM BAH" days when this Panther cheerleader celebrated with the Pitt Panther.

Karen Agostinella

Head Cheerleading Coach

Karen Agostinella begins her eighth year as head coach of the Pitt cheerleading squad. In the past seven years, Mrs. Agostinella has gained a national reputation and is highly respected for her fine work in the development of collegiate cheerleading. A graduate of Slippery Rock State College, Karen is a physical education instructor in a suburban Pittsburgh school district. A native of Hopewell, PA, Karen and her husband Mike reside in Bethel Park, PA.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH MARCHING BAND

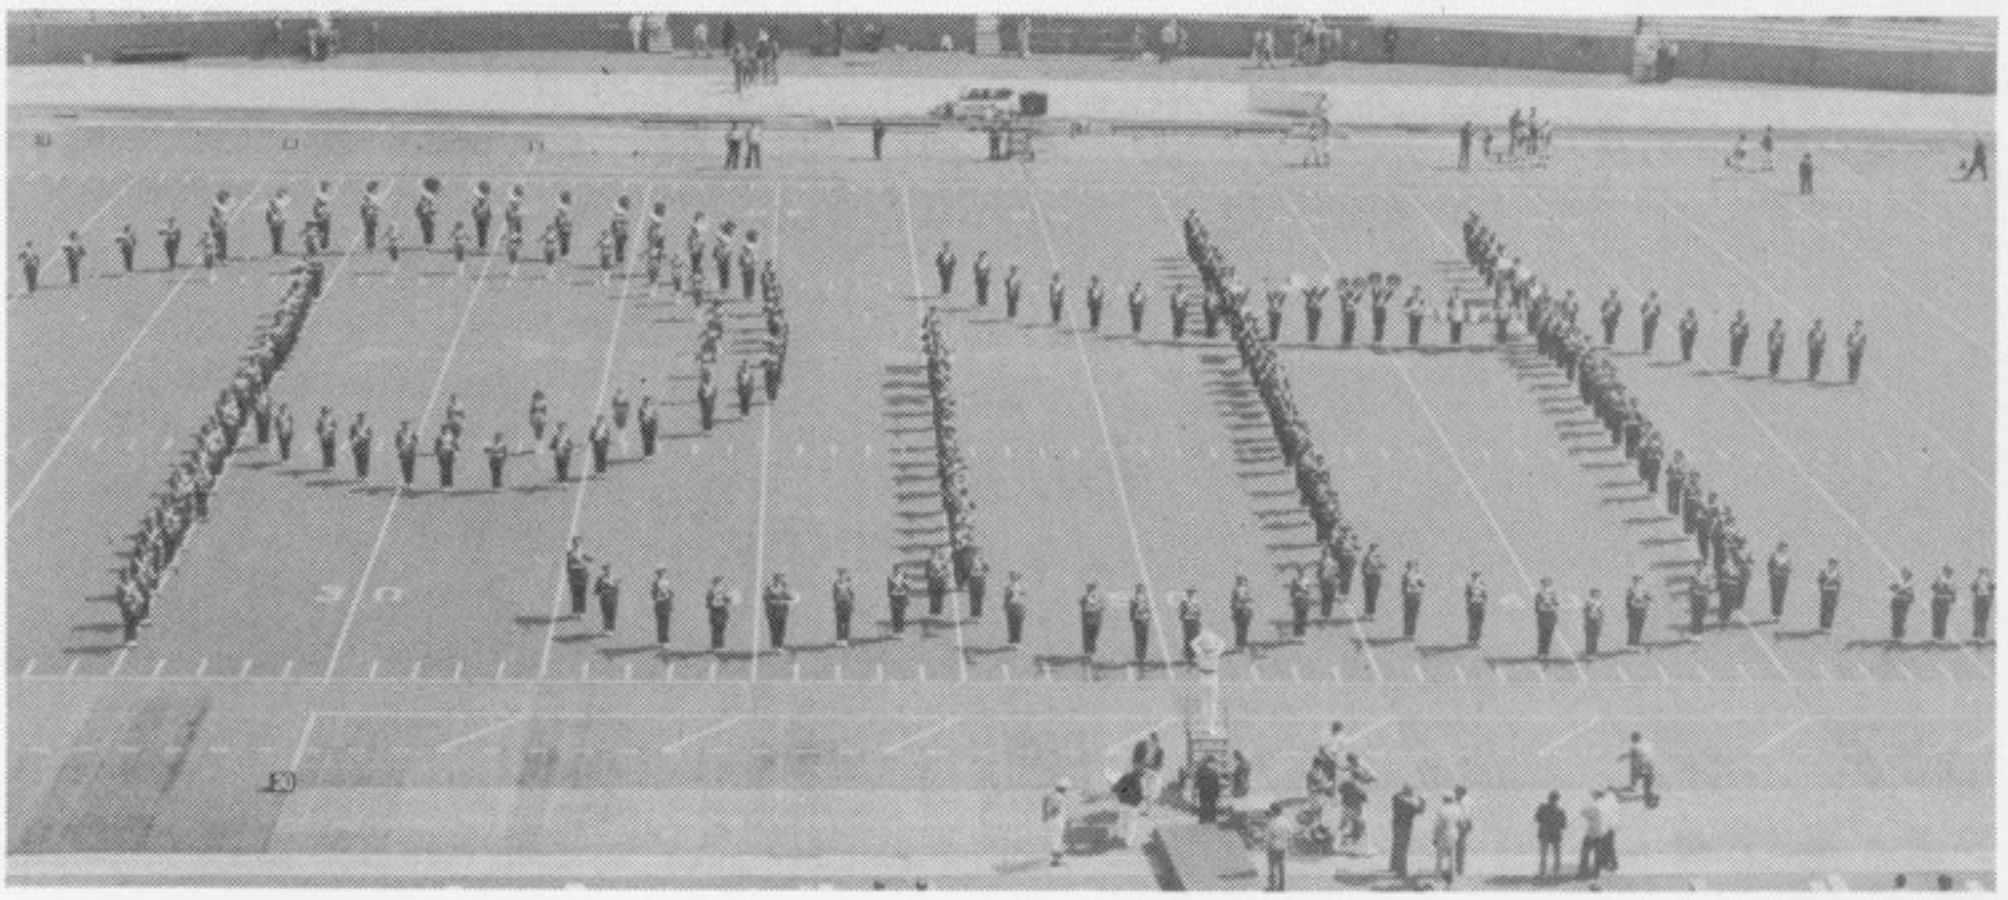
Making music is only part of what the Pitt Bands do. For the University, they perform a valuable service, whether on the football field, at a basketball game or in the Concert Hall. Traditionally they have provided members with unique opportunities for musical expression and the kind of person to person fellowship that is so important to University life.

Composed of 200 instrumentalists and 19 Golden Girls, the Pitt Band is considered among the finest marching bands in the country and serves as a vital tool for generating fan enthusiasm at sporting events. Its musical quality, marching expertise and imaginative half-time shows are reasons which have led to the Band's national recognition.

The Pitt Band is a totally volunteer student organization with no scholarship or financial aid given to the Band members. Every School and Department of the University is represented among its membership. Each year the Pitt Band travels to at least two away football games and to six of Pitt's last seven Bowl games. Included among these appearances are the Sun Bowl, Tangerine Bowl, Gator Bowl and Sugar Bowl. The Pitt Band has also had the privilege of appearing with Chuck Mangione and Anita Bryant at the Sugar Bowl in 1977 and the Tangerine Bowl in 1978.

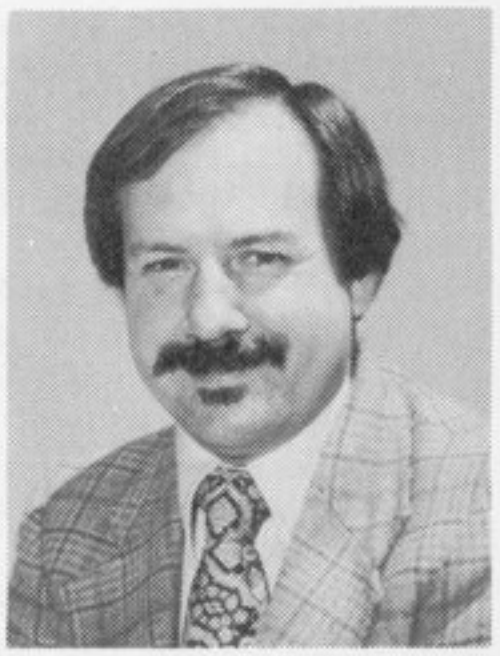
Other musical organizations in the Division of University Bands include the Concert Band Basketball Pep Band and the "Solid Gold" jazz-rock band.

The Band staff includes: Director of Bands Donald E. Hower, Associate Director of Bands Vince Biancucci, Music Arranger Joe Campus, Choreographer Larry Cervi, Percussion Instructor Lorry Yednak and Announcer Clayton Hartman.



Donald E. Hower

Director of Bands



A native Pennsylvanian, Donald Hower holds degrees from Ohio State and Temple University. Prior to coming to Pitt, he was the assistant director of the Ohio State University Marching Band and also taught trombone at Ohio State. During the fall, Hower directs the marching and concert bands, as well as taking care of all administrative work for the band program. During the winter months, he directs the concert and "Solid Gold" jazz bands, as well as visiting local schools to carry on an extensive recruiting campaign on behalf of the University Bands. Hower has served as a clinician, adjudicator and private instructor in the Tri-State area. He is married to the former Kathleen Hollinger — the Howers have two daughters: Genevieve (5) and Jessica (2).

PANTHERS ON THE AIR

Pitt football will be beamed this Fall via both radio and television throughout Pennsylvania and across the country.

RADIO:

The popular two-man broadcast team of Bill Hillgrove and Johnny Sauer will call all of the action for the Pitt football radio network, originating from flagship station 1250/WTAE in Pittsburgh, begins his ninth year as football play-by-play man. Hillgrove will again be joined by nationally known TV analyst, John Sauer. Hillgrove and Sauer team together to give Pitt one of the best college football.

* * * *

Also on radio this Fall, WTAE will continue the popular "Panther Hotline." This gives the Panthers a solid five hours of Pitt football coverage starting at 1:00 PM until 6:00 PM on gamedays. The coverage begins with the pre-game show at 1:00 PM. Following the game is the "Panther Hotline" post-game show, hosted by Bob Kopler and Johnny Sauer. "Panther Hotline" includes live locker room comments from players and coaches, a review session with Coach Foge Fazio, live reports from Pitt opponents across the country, college scoreboard update and a listener call-in portion.

* * * *

The newest addition to the Panther radio coverage will be a one-hour talk show to be aired 8:00-9:00 PM Sunday on 1250/WTAE Radio. The show will feature Pitt football with Head Coach Foge Fazio. After football season, the show will switch to basketball and feature Head Basketball Coach Dr. Roy Chipman.

Bill Hillgrove

Play-by-Play Announcer

Bill Hillgrove's wife, Rosette, admits that her husband "always asks me what he's going to do when he grows up."

He truly is a man who enjoys his work. Hillgrove has been calling the play-by-play action for the Pitt Panthers football team since 1974, when he replaced the late Ed Conway. He has also been the "voice" of Pitt Basketball as play-by-play man for the past 12 years.

In the past several years, Hillgrove has gained a solid reputation as one of Pennsylvania's most knowledgeable sportscasters. He first joined the Pitt broadcast team in 1969 as the color man on football broadcasts.

"I love this kind of work because it keeps me young," said Hillgrove. "The relationships I have with the people involved with college athletics is very special. You've got to have fun with it — and we do.

"It is also a pleasure to work with the most knowledgeable man in the game of football, my partner, Johnny Sauer," Hillgrove added.

Hillgrove, sports director of WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, is on the board of directors of both the Golden Triangle YMCA and AFTRA. He holds a bachelors degree in radio and TV journalism from Duquesne University.

Hillgrove is married to the former Rosette Sapienza, who is a music teacher and faculty member at Duquesne University. The Hillgroves have two children, Billy Paul (16) and Leah (9).

John Sauer

Color Analyst

Johnny Sauer begins his ninth year on the Pitt broadcast team, with his popular color commentary. The former NFL analyst of 12 years joined up with Bill Hillgrove in 1974.

He was associated with the Hughes Sports Network from 1970-72 and has worked numerous football bowl games including the Gator, Astro-BlueBonnet, Cotton, Tangerine, Blue-Gray and Fiesta Bowl. He served as sports director of WING Radio in Dayton, Ohio from 1957-71.

In his 30 years of sports broadcasting, Sauer attributes his switch from TV broadcasting back to radio because "you can talk more on radio than TV."

"The Panther broadcasts will be my swan song in sports broadcasting," added Sauer. "Nothing compares to the association that I've had with the Panthers."

A 1946 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, Sauer was a classmate of Pitt Chancellor Wesley Posvar and a football teammate of former Pitt Athletic Director Cas Myslinski. His long list of coaching and administrative credentials include: backfield coach at West Point (1947-49), backfield coach at Florida (1950-52), backfield coach of the Los Angeles Rams (1953-54), athletic director and head coach at The Citadel (1955-56), assistant coach of the College All-Stars (1959-65) and head coach of the College All-Stars (1966-67).

The Sauer family includes wife Jeanne and son John, Jr. (28). When Sauer is not in the broadcast booth, he works as a realtor at his Estate Managing and Planning business in Dayton.

TELEVISION:

An expanded Pitt football show was introduced two years ago, and with great enthusiasm, will continue in 1982. Panther Pride will be beamed, reaching potentially a nation-wide audience, through the use of a national cable system. The half-hour show will be produced and marketed by WTAE-TV/TCS, Inc. of New Kensington, PA, Nelson Goldberg, Executive Producer. It is a fast-paced half hour of game highlights, player profiles, player game comments, Foge Fazio insights and comments, and University documentaries. Flagship station for the show is WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, which carries the broadcast 12-12:30 PM Sundays.

THE PITT SPORTS INFORMATION STAFF

The members of the Pitt Sports Information Staff are responsible for the coverage of Pitt's 19 men and women's sports teams. While each of the three members of the staff is assigned to coordinate a certain area of the sports program, all three assist each other to provide adequate coverage for each Panther team. The Pitt Sports Information Office is under the direction of Associate Athletic Director Dean Billick.

Joyce Aschenbrenner

Football Sports Information Director

Joyce Aschenbrenner began her ninth year on the Pitt staff last spring, her second as Football Sports Information Director.

A graduate of West Virginia University School of Journalism, she worked as a student assistant in the WVU Sports Information Office under SID Dick Polen. She joined the Pitt staff in 1974 as an assistant SID for women's sports, moved to men's sports in 1978, and in 1981 was assigned strictly to football.

Joyce has covered seven football bowl games and the NIT with the Panthers, and served as publicity director for the 1979 AIAW National Swimming and Diving Championships and Eastern Championships in basketball, swimming and diving, gymnastics, volleyball and track and field.

She is a member of the Football Writers of America, College Sports Information Directors of America and Women in Communications.

For the past four years, Joyce has been the Academic All-America chairperson for District II, serving on the national Academic All-America committee for CoSIDA. She is also a committee member of Foge Fazio Leukemia Golf Tournament, in conjunction with the Leukemia Society of Western Pennsylvania.

Joyce is a native of Brentwood.

Kimball Smith

Promotions and Ticket Sales/Men's Basketball

Kimball Smith begins his sixth season as a member of the Pitt Sports Information Staff.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Kim continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned a master's degree in athletic administration in 1976. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and U. Mass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1976. He was hired in his present capacity in the spring of 1977.

Kimball's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball along with the duties of public relations for the Panther basketball squad.

Kim is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean (4).

Linda Venzon

Non-Revenue Sports Information Director

Linda Venzon begins her third year on the Pitt Sports Information staff.

A 1980 Pitt graduate, Linda worked as a student intern under Dean Billick for one full year before gaining public relations experience on the professional sports level at the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Last year, Linda's duties were expanded from women's sports to all public relations needs for Pitt's 17 men and women's non-revenue sports teams. In her two years, she has hosted six eastern regional championships in men and women's swimming and diving, men and women's volleyball and women's gymnastics (EAIAW and NCAA). This past season, she was selected to assist the NCAA in its first women's basketball championships in Norfolk, Virginia. Linda also assists in the coverage of football and men's basketball.

She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America and won her first CoSIDA award for last season's women's basketball brochure. She is also a member of the Pittsburgh Pinch Hitters.

Linda is a native of Harrison Park, PA.

Beatrice Schwartz

Secretary/Editorial Assistant

Bea Schwartz has been with the Sports Information Office since the Spring of 1978. She is a 12-year employee of the University, previously working as a secretary in the philosophy department.

A native of Uniontown, Bea spent one year with the Microphone Playhouse, before joining the staff of WDAD-Radio in Indiana, PA as a copywriter. She also had a daily radio show. She moved on to WEDO-Radio in McKeesport before settling down to raise her family.

Bea has two sons — Dr. Alan Schwartz, of Phoenix, Arizona, who is the medical director of the emergency center of Phoenix Baptist Hospital, and Marchie, who is in the automobile business in Phoenix. Bea has three grandchildren, Danny, Britton, and Melissa.

MEDIA POLICIES FOR THE 1982 SEASON

INTERVIEWS: Coach Foge Fazio will be available for interviews by the media up until (and including) Thursday before game-day. The best time for the media to reach Coach Fazio is 11:00 AM.

Player interviews will be set up ONLY by the Sports Information Office. Please give us at least one day's notice, and if possible, more. Please, no player interviews after Wednesday evening before game day.

PRESS BOX: Accommodations in the press box will be furnished to representatives of Pittsburgh district papers, metropolitan papers filing for Sunday editions, press services, Pittsburgh radio and TV sports commentators, media following the opposing team, and scouts from schools playing either Pitt or its opponents.

Those media members with season passes are please asked to confirm their attendance by Friday, noon, prior to Saturday's football game.

Requests should be made in writing to the Sports Information Director in advance. The press gate is Gate #11. Passes will be mailed on Monday prior to game-day.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline passes will be issued to Pittsburgh papers, news services, daily papers normally covering the opposing team, and student publications of the two schools. Color-coded press stickers will be issued for each game and must be worn at all times. Photographers must stay behind the marked lines to the right and left of the bench area and may not enter the bench area. Sideline passes will not be honored for admission to the press box.

An officer will be assigned to instruct photographers to stay within designated areas. Failure to comply with the officer will result in loss of photographers' privileges. Space on the photographers' deck is reserved for newspapers in the same manner as field passes and also for newsreel and game movie cameramen. This space must be requested in advance to insure adequate space.

Field photographers should enter Gate #3. Photographers covering from the stands should enter Gate #11.
